

Jake the Bear and His Adventures

by

Laurie L. Jacobson

A Special Thanks to Holly Simpson

I want to thank to a special friend Holly for her faith in me that I could write. She helped me accomplish my first book. She was the one who taught me how to write. I am thankful for 11 wonderful years of our friendship. She understood me better than I understand myself. Without her I won't get this far.

Thank you. Holly.

Contents

1. Jake the Bear and His Golden Tree
2. Jake the Bear Remembers His Grandfather's Stories
3. Jake the Bear Is Elected to Become Chosen One
4. Jake the Bear Reads First Lesson of Golden Book
5. Jake the Bear Meets New Friend
6. Jake the Bear Leaves the Water Bear Land
7. Jake the Bear Meets the Bear Spirit
8. Jake the Bear Reads Second Lesson of Golden Book

Jake the Bear and His Golden Tree

Once upon a time, there were many bears that lived in the mountains. It had yellow landscapes with flat, rough edges, steep and tall with very high peaks and many tropical forests. Many of the bears loved to climb rapidly in the high altitude. It was very challenging. The bears lived in caves. It was named the Bear Mountain. The weather was very warm all year around.

There were many different kinds of bears who lived together very happily. The bears' coats were very shiny. Some were white and brown, black and orange. They wore long dresses that kept them cool with different colors that matched their personality. They looked so beautiful!

There was one bear that looked like snow and was very tall and huge. His name was Jake and he had a soft heart. He was a very smart and wise bear. He was the King Bear's son in the bear land. Jake made sure that every bear was very happy and got along with one another. Jake the bear always made sure that every bear got enough honey to feed their family.

Jake helped King Bear, his father, manage the kingdom. He took some of the responsibilities to help his father. He worked with several chief bears to help manage the kingdom. One of the Chief Bears came to Jake for assistance if needed. Many of them knew Jake was very respectful and fair to every bear, just like his father King Bear.

Today was the day Jake was planning to go fishing until the chief bear came to see him. Jake saw his face and asked him, "What's wrong?" The chief bear told him the honey had nearly ran out and the bears would start to go hungry. There was no more to share.

"Will you come with me to the swamp and I have something to show you. It's not looking good."

Jake agreed to follow Chief Bear to the swamp where the hives were located. When they got there and Chief Bear pointed in the exact direction and there were no bees' activities out there.

Jake went and inspected the hives to see the reasons for their departure. He found nothing. He couldn't find anything that was invaded. There were no dead bees. It was getting stranger by the minute.

“You can see there is not even one bee around. It's like they have disappeared.” Chief Bear expressed.

“Do you have any idea where the bees have gone to?” Jake questioned.

“I have no idea why they left their hives. We may have to find the bees somewhere to bring them back somehow or we will go hungry.” Chief Bear remarked.

Jake nodded, “We need return to the Bear Mountain and I will go see King Bear and speak to him about this problem. I want to keep this between us. We don't want to get the bears in a panic,” Chief Bear agreed.

Both Jake and Chief Bear ran toward to the kingdom. Jake was concerned and asked himself a question, “Where could the bees have disappeared to?” He was unable to figure it out.

The King Bear eyes were radiant when he saw his son entered the room. He loved his son. He was happy to see Jake help to run his kingdom smoothly for him.

King Bear was tall like Jake. He had light black fur. His face looked delightful and very handsome and his heart was fair and very kind. He wore a long, royal blue robe with gold trimmings and sandals.

King Bear commanded Jake to come and sit with him. “Hi Son, what brings you here. I thought you had gone fishing today?”

Jake replied, “I wish I did but this one needs our attention.”

“What's wrong?” King Bear asked.

“The Chief Bear came to me and informed me we have low supply of honey and there is little left of it for us bears. We have nearly run out of honey. We need to solve this before we go hungry. We can't wait a day or two. We need to take an action right now,” Jake worried.

“What happened to the bees near the swamp?” asked King Bear.

Jake answered, “I have no idea what happened to it. We went there to inspect and spotted none of the bees. It seems like they have disappeared. There were not tampered with or attacked. I'm not sure where they have gone to. My guess is they just vanished.” The King Bear became concerned and remarked, “Jake, Yes! We need act now." He stood up, paced around and then he came up with idea. He groaned and pacing around again while Jake was watching, wondering what he was thinking. That's it! Finally, the solution.

"Jake, Jake it came to me just now. I think I may have found a solution to help us with the shortage problem. I just remembered about the Golden Tree. It will produce more honey." King Bear said excitedly.

Jake was dismayed and skeptical and asked him, "Are you for real? Where did that idea come from?"

"It came to me all of sudden. I have not thought of it until now." King Bear got excited and told him.

Jake was slowly piqued and asked Father to tell the whole story from the beginning because he tried to figured it out how honey could be produced out of a tree.

King Bear spoke, "Yes Jake, I know you may be skeptical about this Golden Tree. I learned this from my father's stories when I was a young cub." Jake was listening intently as Father explain the story on how to find the Golden Tree.

"The story was passed for many centuries. It says the One will believe in the Golden Tree and will receive guidance from the Chosen One."

Father, "What's the story about the Chosen One? How do I know or find him?" Jake questioned, hoping he could give him more information so that he could go to the Forest to find honey himself.

Father explained to Jake, "Your grandfather spoke this story once about the Golden Tree when I was a young cub. The Golden Tree is in the Forest. It is very rare and odd shaped and no one noticed the strangeness. Only few will take a notice of it. It will only respond the secret password that will give you more honey."

Jake got excited and asked his father, "What is the secret password?" King Bear sadly answered, "I don't have it with me. I have no idea what the password is. Grandfather did not share it with me. It will be given to you when it direly is needed. So you'll need to go on a journey to the Forest. I know your grandfather can help you."

"How? Grandfather has departed this Bear World. It's impossible to ask Grandfather for the password. This is a emergency! We do need honey. I asked you, Do you believe in this story there will be plenty of honey in the Forest?" Jake questioned.

"Oh yes, I strongly believe in it. I do know it's there for a reason. Our ancestors have passed to us for centuries as long as the One believes it. You might be the One but you have to believe in this story and it will lead you to find the right tree." King Bear confirmed.

"But this story is farfetched. It seems like it comes from the imaginative storyteller." Jake hesitates.

King Bear commented, "I know it looks farfetched to you but you have to take the leap of faith and try not to see with reality with your eyes."

Jake sighs and said "I'll try to take your word for it. I will go on the journey on my own so it has to be secret." King Bear agreed. So Jake told his King Bear that we need to announce to the kingdom about short supply of honey.

"I can leave the mountain in the morning to search for more honey." Father nodded and approved. Jake the bear left his Father and went to see the chief bear and commanded him to start the proclamation to all the bears together in Bear Mountain Land to come see the King Bear and Jake the Bear.

Later that day, Jake the Bear saw all of the bears in many different form and shapes. They gathered themselves together around the land. King Bear stood before the multitude and spoke, "Thank you for coming on the short notice. We have a situation that needs your attention. I will have Jake the Bear to speak to you. Please heed properly."

Jake came up before the audience and started to speak. "It has come to my attention that I must inform you all that we have a short supply of honey. We can't predict when the honey will run out. Please use it reasonably. There won't be enough for all of us. We won't know why it did happen."

The bears gasped and murmured among themselves with many unanswered questions. Jake saw their worried faces and drew his paws.

He spoke, "I can't answer every question you have but I will tell you what I have learned. The bees at the swamp have disappeared and I don't see any tamper or corruption the bees may have done. We can't wait for bees to return. We need honey to survive so we need to take an action. I will must leave the mountain to go on a journey to search for more honey for us bears. I won't know how long I will be gone. Please use your honey wisely until I return."

The morning came, the chief bears were helping pack the provisions with many of empty jugs on his sledge and wrapping ropes around them. Many bears surrounded him in his sledge wishing him well on his journey. King Bear stood in front of Jake, shaking his hands and told him, "Godspeed."

"I'll try to return as soon as I can."

As many bears chanted for Jake, he left the mountain very far away for a long time until he reached up the hill. He saw that the huge Forest had so many trees out there in a distance. He began to slow down due to being extremely exhausted. He took off the harness from his form, stood and beheld the Forest so huge in many different directions. There were several Living Waters land on different places on the other side of the Forest. Jake wasn't sure which way he should go to the right Forest. Jake wasn't too eager to take his sledge with him and thought it would prove a very difficult journey dragging the sledge through the Forest while searching for the Golden Tree. He found a secret spot and hid the sledge covering it with bushes.

Jake needed to find an answer about where to go to the exact Living Waters, but he took a rest first to eat while he was observing the Forest. He sat down on the rock and pondering all day until night time came. He fell asleep and had a dream. He had a dream and heard a voice that is familiar about giving him a description of the tree. Jake started to listen to the story from the familiar voice about the Golden Tree. The voice, which Jake then pinpointed to that of his Grandfather's voice, described the tree deeper in details and how odd it looked. He learned how to command it and it would grant his wish. Then the tree will become golden.

Then the next morning, it struck him with a strong déjà vu feeling that he would be suppose to be here. Suddenly Jake realized he was destined and meant to be here; and was officially chosen to be on mission. Thus he was more determined to find that tree by going into the Forest and met every tree. He commanded each one by saying "make me honey." But not even one tree obeyed the command at all. He was exhausted and practically met every tree in the Forest.

The sunset came, Jake sat down feeling discouraged and depressed. Not knowing what to do, he started looking up to the heavens wondering if his Grandfather was up there watching and could help him to find the Golden Tree as his King Bear said he would. Jake recited himself trying to remember from his dream from the previous night what the voice have told him about the specific tree over again and again. So Jake pondered deeply the rest of the evening. His exhaustion took over and he fell asleep and dreamed about his Grandfather giving him the exact instructions again. It took him all night to remember the answer. He was glad he didn't give up. His father, King Bear, and the bears in the Kingdom were depending on him.

When the dream ended, Jake woke up suddenly and was shocked and exclaimed, "That was Grandfather he was speaking with in his dream. King Bear was right! He was feeling so much joyful to be able to speak with him again!"

He started to remember the full details from the dream about the odd tree that lived by the Living Waters. It would obey every command. Jake became excited and knew where to find the golden tree. Jake ran to the one of the Living Waters. It took Jake a while with different directions with many turns and twists to find it but he found one with a special feeling like being drawn to this specific tree and then approached the one odd tree there.

Jake wasn't sure if this was the one and touched the tree to see if he can feel the oddity from the tree. So Jake the Bear has decided to test it by commanding the tree "Make me honey." The tree started to become golden suddenly with a loud squeaking. It started to produce the honey from the inside. Jake's eyes went wide! He became excited when he saw the honey then overflowing and spilling to the ground.

Jake was jumping for joy! He couldn't believe it was real! He knew his bears from Bear Mountain were saved from hunger and would have plenty of honey to eat. He knelt and stretched his arms to the heavens and thanked Grandfather for the miracle.

Jake went and took out the sledge from the hiding place to start filling jugs with honey. It took him many hours to get all the jugs filled with honey. Jake began to realize it would be very tough to pull the sledge back to the mountain with full jugs of honey. It took a few attempts for Jake to be able to pull the sledge and the trip was slow for him. It took several days for him to travel back to Bear Mountain.

Several bears happened to see Jake pulling the sledge from a distance. "Jake is back! Jake is back!" All the bears were cheering and ran to Jake. Chief Bear and King Bear looked at each other and got very excited when they heard that Jake was back and ran to where the bears were. Both saw Jake and were overjoyed.

King Bear made a request, "Will all of you with the Chief Bear to go help Jake?"

Chief Bear spoke, "I will go and get all of the chief bears to help." King Bear ran out to Jake and embraced him and exclaimed, "You're back!" Jake took one of the jugs from the sledge and opened to show him the honey.

King Bear saw it and gasped, "You did it! I am very proud of you my son!" And gave Jake a big hug.

The Bear Mountain bears surrounded Jake and King Bear. Jake showed them the honey to see for themselves. Many cheered! Several of the Chief Bears helped pull the sledge back into the kingdom.

From this day the bears were overjoyed and never went hungry again! Jake knew he had to keep the secret so the tree would continue to provide the honey when his bears need it.

A few days later, Jake stood and oversee the bears were content with normal routines. Jake felt proud of his determination to find the Golden Tree to help his bears despite his beliefs. King Bear sneaked behind and surprised Jake by suggesting, "Do you want go fishing?" Jake felt thrilled with his idea.

"You bet, let's go!" Both ran out.

Jake the Bear Remembers His Grandfather's Stories

Jake and his father, King Bear, to whom he calls Father Bear, happily took a break from the Bear Mountain for the day by spending time fishing together. When they got there at the river, Jake challenged Father Bear by saying, "Let's catch the most fishes and win." Father Bear declared, "You're on!" They ran into the river and dived their faces into the water to catch the fishes. Both competed with each other. They stayed all day swimming to catch many fishes with their paws. It was one of their favorite pastimes.

After a while, they were extremely exhausted after catching so many fishes that Jake declared to quit the competition and get out of water to rest.

Father Bear declared, "I think I got the most fishes than you did." Jake laughed, "Maybe!"

As they rested on the ground trying to catch their breath, both father and son closed their eyes. Jake's mind went back in time to when he was with Grandfather.

When Jake was a young cub, he loved being with his grandfather and did many things with him. Jake remembered all the stories about his grandfather and his adventures when he was growing up. Jake never got tired of listening how he became a great bear. He learned from his success and failures. All of the lessons Jake learned that his grandfather helped all bears. His grandfather was a very wise bear. His name was Justus the Bear. He was a handsome bear, very strong and big. He had gray fur that shone in the sun. Justus was an intimidating bear because he was so big. He always had a smile on his face that put every bear he met at ease. He was a very old bear, but his mind was very sharp and clear.

When Justus was a young bear, he was a very humble bear and learned many great things from his father bear. Justus and Jake's father, King Bear, always helped many bears in every kingdom including his grandson Jake. When Jake was young cub, he remembered his grandfather would bestow his son his kingdom. For many years, Father Bear ruled the Mountain Land so Justus was able to travel everywhere in the Bear Kingdom. He was recognized as wise, fearless, soft hearted, strong, loving, and humble. Justus never got tired of teaching his valuable lessons to all the bears and make wonderful friends who welcome him everywhere.

Many cubs in every Kingdom loved to hear the stories from Justus' adventures. When Justus visited and stayed for many moons in each land, many bears came to Justus for his wisdom and help when they need it. Sometimes Justus helped the Kings to judge the bears equally. When the rulers in other land heard Justus the Bear was among them, they often went to see him. They needed his knowledge to help them become better bears. Justus was very happy to see many bears need his help and lived in peace. Justus wanted to help many bears to learn and gain knowledge to become better bears like him. Justus was thankful for all the wisdom given by his father in Bear Heaven every day.

Jake the Bear remembered his grandfather Justus taking him on many adventures such as sailing in a small ship in the big oceans, climbing in mountains, swimming in rivers, climbing in rainforest, hiking in caves and traveling everywhere in the Bear Kingdom. Jake got to meet different kinds of bears in every land. Jake often watched his grandfather's example in helping others bears to learn from his wisdom.

Jake was taught to do many things like hunting, rafting, catching the fish, hiking and picking out good berries. Justus taught the lessons to help Jake learn how to depend on himself in his adventures. Justus taught Jake never to be afraid of good and bad things. It is important to learn how to solve problems in good or bad things.

Jake was taught that he needs to do good things and not be afraid to show what is right. Justus taught him if he sensed danger he must stop and listen; Justus explained Holy Bear Spirit would help him find his way from danger. The Holy Bear Spirit will come to you when you need it. Jake did not understand what his grandfather was trying to telling him. Jake knew he will understand what Holy Bear Spirit means one day. He knew when he made choices, he would need to be wise to make it right and be careful to avoid bad consequences.

Justus told Jake, "I am not a perfect bear. I do make mistakes, but it is good to learn from the mistakes I make so I can become wiser. Don't think you are better than them. It's good to listen and accept wisdom from others. They may give you a good advice. When you need to make a difficult decision, always think on this and take your time to make sure it's right decision. Learn to trust your instincts. Never rush on decisions that you are not sure of."

Jake remembered Justus taught the bears many of his lessons and shared his stories to help them when they couldn't resolve their conflicts.

Justus knew he was needed elsewhere and he gave up the kingdom to give his son bear to reign in his stead. Jake remembered Justus received many epistles from other kings from other kingdoms asking for help. He did travel for many moons and sometimes he took Jake along.

Later, Justus got old and he stayed at Bear Mountain Land for the rest of his days. Many mourned of his passing. Many bears were stay true to his teachings and lessons to pass out to their bears for years to come.

The stories are still vivid in Jake's mind. Jake knew the lessons are needed for him to be a better bear and a ruler. Jake was grateful for his grandfather's love, nurture with all of his teachings, and lessons when he was growing up. He was grateful to have the knowledge that he could rule the land in peace. Jake was thankful for his grandfather's wisdom and teaching in Bear Heaven everyday too. Jake would follow his examples and pass down his grandfather's teachings, lessons and stories to his cubs someday. He missed his Grandfather and wishes he was here with him.

Father Bear woke up from the nap and started to speak, "Jake, I want you to know that I knew you can find the Golden Tree! I wanted you to know I am very proud of you to be able to solve the honey problem. No one could have done it better!"

Jake said, "Thank you Father. I am glad that I did get some help from Grandfather's dream. It sure did help me to solve the mystery but you know it wasn't easy. I am glad I didn't give up."

Father Bear smiled, "Did you know whoever found the Golden Tree will become Chosen One? Your Grandfather was one of the Chosen Ones. I was kind of knew this was meant for you. It was not meant for me to solve the five thousand years old mystery. A few are able to solve it."

Jake was startled when he heard it and exclaimed, "Wait a minute. How did you come up with conclusion? A few? I don't understand. What's a Chosen One?"

"This is very difficult task not many succeed to find the Golden Tree." Father Bear started to unravel the story to Jake.

Jake was surprised, "Are you serious? Grandfather was one of the Chosen One. Why was not I informed? Why didn't you or Grandfather share it with me sooner? Were our ancestors the only ones or there are others out there?"

"Yes there were others beside our ancestors all over the Bear World. They don't share it with others. That's a part of the secret to keep to themselves. Not many bears would respect this special calling." We were advised not to make it known with others. The Chosen Ones wanted it to be protected and be used for special calling." Father Bear explained.

"But, how did you know about them if you're not Chosen One? How did Grandfather become Chosen One? Who did share it with you?" Jake questioned Father Bear.

"No one shared it with me. I accidentally just stumbled and overheard about a delicate subject when your Grandfather was making conversations with one of the Chosen Ones. I was not supposed to hear it. But, when I heard it all, I knew it's important for me to keep this to myself in secret out of respect for your Grandfather. I do believe some were foreordained and be chosen who can become Chosen Ones to help save the Bear World." Father Bear answered Jake's questions.

"Really? Do you think I can save Bear World? Will you tell me more about the Chosen One? I really don't know but I need to make sense of it. I wish Grandfather would share it with me when he was alive. I never knew about this until now," troubled pondering Jake.

"Yes, you can be a part to help save the Bear World. You were with Grandfather in his journeys. You saw him helping many bears all of your life. Helping others is greater privilege. It was forbidden to share it with you until One bear has succeeded finding the Golden Tree. It can be shared that if one respect the secret. Let me tell you a story how the Chosen One was started.” Father Bear advised.

Father Bear's mind went back in time when he was young cub and remembered the story by his heart when he heard for the first time and started to tell the story. “Two thousand years ago the Bear World was nearly in extinction. Too much corruption, wars and dishonor raged everywhere until famine came. Hundreds of thousands of bears were killed from the wars and died from starvation. Their food supply was wiped out. There was none to be found in the Bear World until One bear was desperate in search of honey trying to help the bears to survive.”

One bear, who was one of our ancestors, wandered in the Forest nearly starving to death. He was trying to find food in impossible way by touching the Golden Tree. He was pleading to this Tree by saying, "Please give me honey." Then he ignored it and stumbled in a distance by looking up to Heavens to plead for help to save the Bear World from extinction. Then he passed out and collapsed on the ground in sheer exhaustion wanting of food. He did not know how long he was lying on the ground. One of the Chosen One appears to him and spoke, “I have seen your true heart and compassion for your bears. I can help you to save the Bear World to survive by guiding you to the Golden Tree that will provide you with honey to feed your bears.”

When the One bear heard him speaking, he looked up at the Chosen One in blurry eyes. He wasn't sure if he was having a dream. He asked him, "Are you for real?"

The Chosen One knelt beside him and fed him with honey and replied, “Yes I am real. My name is Joman the Bear.”

His eyes were opening slowly when he saw him kneeling beside him and feeding him honey. He realized when he smelled and tasted the honey. He opened his eyes wide and suddenly; and then abruptly took them from his paws and devoured them.

He spoke, “Thank you, thank you. These honey is amazing! I can't remember how much it tastes so good!" And then it came back to his conscious, "Wait! Where did you get this honey from? I must bring honey to bears."

The Chosen One laughed, "Very good. One question at a time. Let's arise, we need to start our unfinished business here. We need go back to the Golden Tree that you already have make a wish. Joman got up and walked away."

One bear got puzzled by his remarks and was confused speaking oneself, "What Golden Tree?" One bear wasn't sure he understood him so he was trying to regain his strength by rising and decided to follow him. When the One saw the tree has turned into Golden Tree with honey spilling on the ground. He was baffled and mystified, not being able to comprehend how it happened.

"This is the Golden Tree here. It will only serve for the Goodwill for your bears and it will serve you as long as you need. Look at the honey you did make a wish by saying, 'Give me honey'. It turned into golden as Joman the Bear pointed it out to him. This will help you to feed your bears."

The One stood by the Golden Tree and touched it and found very unique and asked, "How? I don't recall by making a wish to that tree. Is that Magic Tree and what it does? Did you give me some of this honey from this tree? Who are you really?" The One became dumbfounded with too many unanswered questions.

Joman explained to him the history of Golden Tree. This Golden Tree has the abilities to know one that will serve the Goodwill for Bear World. It will provide the needs to save the Bear World. Anything that touches the Good and to answer your question, "Yes, I did feed you this honey from this tree. I am the first bear who touched this Tree since the beginning of the Bear World."

The One was awed, "You and the Golden Tree must be very ancient!"

"Yes. We were from two thousand years ago. But you need to understand one exceptional rule. This the Golden Tree can give you anything you desire but it can be used for greater purposes. If you abuse for your own gain, this Tree will not produce anything and you will be disinherited as the Chosen One."

The One bear stood by Chosen One with an expression feeling extremely overwhelmed with new revelation, "Yes, I will honor thy words. I will do anything to save the Bear World.”

The Chosen One smiled, “Very good. You are officially a Chosen One and will learn how to become one by helping the bears in the Bear World to teach them to survive and lead a productive life. You must teach yourself to discern from right and wrong. Never mention to anyone. That's forbidden. Will you accept the calling?”

One bear repeated by saying, "Yes, I will accept it."

Excellent! I need to leave now. I will return to teach you more and you must be ready at any time for me to come again.” One bear nodded.

Whoever was able to get the tree to turn golden would become a Chosen One. Only a few accomplished this task. The Chosen One might come and give you the Golden Book to read. Our ancestors have used their wisdom and teachings to teach the bears. They consider it very important to follow their traits to teach us to become better bears so we can teach others to become the better souls. That way we can depart here and become the Eternal Souls in the next life.

Jake was fascinated by the story while listening to Father Bear explain a story about one of his ancestors, Chosen Ones.

“Did you say a few are chosen? How many bears do you think have accomplished this? How do I know when I meet this person?” Jake implored.

“I have known a few Chosen Ones after I learned this from your Grandfather but I can't say how many from the beginning to now. You will get to meet one of the Chosen Ones at the appropriate time. I can't say when or where or how. You will know when the time comes. We all need great leaders with right influences in this Bear World to help or guide us to choose the right direction with right choices in life. I'm sure the Bear Heaven are selecting more bears to become a Chosen One to gain wisdom to help teaching the bears to become better bear souls and prepare them for the next life.” Father Bear advised him.

Jake started to ask questions and his mind went in circles but one thing came to his mind with a hit to one conclusion. Jake asked Father Bear, “I just realized something. Is that why Grandfather gave up the kingdom to you so he can help the Kings and the bears to other kingdoms by visiting them more often?"

Father Bear nodded, "Yes that's right, he received so many epistles from different kingdoms asking him to come help almost every day. He couldn't leave his kingdom when they asked him for help. It was almost impossible to do both at the same time."

"I was wondering did you resent your Father for burdening you with more responsibilities than you were able to handle. I know when a King gets old; the son will take up the responsibilities in his stead?" Jake remarked.

"No, I knew Grandfather was the Chosen One so it was important for me to give him the opportunity to help the bears to learn from him to carry on traditions. The traditions were extremely important to carry for many generations to keep them from becoming extinct. I was happy to accept the kingdom in his stead," Father Bear spoke with pride.

"Now I can see why Grandfather has helped so many bears' lives in many different ways when he took me on his travels. Many have looked up to him. They have found Justus the Bear to be a true friend. I saw how great he is that he has helped them. I am so proud of my Grandfather!" Jake felt joy in his heart.

"So am I and I am proud of you, too." Father Bear with conviction.

"I wanted to thank you for preparing me so I can be ready when I meet the Chosen One." Jake added and hugged his Father and smiled.

"Father Bear saw the fishes in two piles and told Jake, "Seems I won the challenge. Are you ready to call it a day or do you want more fishing?" Father Bear smiled challenging Jake.

Jake spoke, "Nah. You win. Let's go back, we need to take fishes to Mama Bear. She would be delighted to have so many fishes!" Father Bear agreed.

As the Father Bear and Jake put all the fishes in their nets and carried on their backs and ran back to the kingdom.

Jake the Bear Is Elected To Become the Chosen One

Things were never the same for Jake the Bear after he turned the tree into gold. His reeling mind was filled with new information from Father Bear. Finding out that he was to become the Chosen One was a big shock for him; thus, it takes time to get used to it.

He wasn't sure what he should do. He had no idea where or when he would do once he meet him. Jake pondered different things that Father Bear shared with him. The hardest part was waiting for the Chosen One to show up. Jake was too anxious to meet the Chosen One. He wasn't sure if he was ready for this task.

He was nervous and paced around. He might not meet their expectations. He wanted to know what kind of responsibilities he would need be doing and then he suddenly paused when it hit with big realization. He understood why he was with Grandfather most of the time traveling around the Kingdom and was taught to learn a various of lessons, self reliance, courage and believe in helping others to prepare him for becoming Chosen One. Jake wondered if Grandfather knew he would become Chosen One someday? Is that why Grandfather prepared him? Helping other bears shouldn't be difficult task and he should be grateful to Grandfather who had shown him how to help others; but, he was feeling insecure with himself, not sure he's worthy of this calling. He wished his Grandfather would be there to guide him.

Jake knew his Father Bear couldn't help him because he knew nothing of the matters involved. At least he was grateful to Father Bear, for he was able to prepare him before he meets with Chosen One.

Each day Jake expected Chosen One to show up but to no avail. He was frustrated waiting and not knowing what to do with himself. He had to keep busy to keep his mind off these things by working around the kingdom and helping the bears building the windmills across the fields for many days to help produce more winds to increase more water by planting the crops.

One morning, Jake decided to take a break and went fishing alone so he could have some peace and quiet to enjoy the scenery.

He enjoyed swimming and fishing for a while until the Chosen One appeared before Jake.

Jake was very surprised to see the Bear standing in a distance waiting to meet him. All of sudden, Jake knew this Bear was the Chosen One. He was so surprised that he fell into the lake. He was totally unprepared and had to remove himself from the water all soaking wet.

Jake mumbled to himself, "Just great. This is unfortunate timing. I wish I was dressed properly to meet the Chosen One. He got out of water and shake himself to dry."

Jake saw the Chosen One was dressed in a heavenly robe that looked pure white with golden trimmings. It was much different than the one he was wearing. He was tall and slim bear. He has a black fur that looked very shiny. He wore glasses that made him look well qualified.

Jake had to get dressed quickly and started to groom himself making sure he looked appropriate and ready to meet to him. When Jake got closer he stopped to meet him face to face.

"Hi. My name is Balki the Bear. I am one of the Chosen One since from the beginning. I am here to give you instructions. May we go sit down and we can proceed? Remember I cannot meet when you are surrounded with other bears. That's forbidden. So if we plan to meet here or anywhere, we must meet alone."

Jake apologized, "Sorry it took you so long to meet me. I didn't know I am required to meet you alone."

Jake observed Balki the Bear. He looked so young with his immortality state. When he was speaking, his voice was very calm and gentle, it sounds like a lullaby.

"It's no matter if I had to wait too long or not. This is the best place for your lessons. I will come meet with you each week at the same time to help prepare you to become a Chosen One. You are forbidden to share this information with your family and friends. Do you accept the terms?" Balki asked Jake.

Jake nodded, "Yes, I do accept the terms."

"Excellent, let's proceed. I will explain your responsibilities of becoming a Chosen One. Only a few are Chosen to help save the bears from extinction. It's important to understand that the Chosen Ones shall accept the responsibility to teach them as much as they can by teaching them to change their heart so their Soul can be passed to the next life."

"Remember the heart is a valuable commodity. They will have to learn how to change their heart. Of course, they have their agency by choosing for greater good or evil. They need to be taught. It's our duty to help them by teaching them by gaining knowledge to discern from right and wrong and learn about the opposition and guiding them to become better bears. It is required for every bear to qualify to claim their commodity when they leave the Bear World. Do you understand the requirements that have been explained to you? Will you accept the greater calling to help the Bear World?" Balki proposed to Jake.

Jake hesitated wanting to speak but he refrained to himself. Balki knew Jake wanted to ask him about something important.

Balki spoke, "Do you have a question to ask me?"

Jake nodded, "Yes sir. May I ask about my Grandfather. Will I be able to see him again?"

Balki the Bear smiled and commented, "Yes, you will. Don't be discouraged. Your Grandfather has been looking out for you since he left the Bear World. He looks forward to be reunited with you."

"Thank you! Yes, I do accept what you just have explained to me," Jake confirmed.

Balki was pleased with his answer. He took the Golden Book out from his bag and showed it to Jake.

Jake saw the Golden Book. It looked tall, wide and heavy with very thick gold pages in it. The pages looked sturdy and strong. What a rare book to see!

"This book has been used for thousands of years. This book will help you to understand in details on what we have discussed. You will read the description on the pages when it is revealed to you. This book will give you line upon line, precept by precept. It's important to study and learn from it. You must keep this book safe and no one can see or touch it. It's forbidden to leave it unattended. If you do this by accident or forget to put it in a safe place, this book will be disappeared until further notice. Care for it. You must ponder in this book every day until we meet again.” Balki commanded him.

Jake was awed to see the Golden Book and looked up to meet Balki's face. “Yes, I will show much respect for this Golden Book. I will do my best to keep it safe and will not reveal to someone and will not tarnish it,” Jake spoke with conviction.

“Very Good. I will need to leave and we will meet again here at the same time and place,” Balki confirmed. Balki stood up and Jake followed him. All of sudden, Balki disappeared before Jake's eyes.

Jake blinked and couldn't believe it. He disappeared like magic! Jake stood there still not knowing for how long and holding the Book.

Then Jake got out of his trance. He looked at the Golden Book in his hands. He was amazed he had it. He started to realize he needed to hide the book quickly before he was spotted by other bears.

He looked around and decided to call it quits on the fishing. He ran back to the kingdom. He wrapped the Golden Book with his dress to keep in place hoping that no one would stop him to talk. By the time he arrived, it was noon time so he hurriedly went inside to his room to hide the Golden Book in a box with lock for safekeeping. He felt relieved to have the book in a safe place.

Jake mumbled to himself, “This will have to wait until tonight to read.” He felt his day was going to be very long. He was very anxious to read but would have to wait until he completed his responsibilities around the Kingdom for the day.

Jake was glad his day was nearly at an end. He was very anxious to read and find out what was in the book. He wanted to learn what the Chosen Ones had learned for thousands of years. He went back home for dinner with his bear parents.

Jake saw his Mother Bear were putting the variety of fish dishes on the table cloth on the floor. He went to hug his Mama Bear and teased, "I can see you never got tired of preparing so many fish dishes."

Mama Bear hushed at Jake and rebuked, "You and your Father Bear went crazy with fish competition and got us too many fishes! I had to come up with ideas to create different kinds of fish dishes. I have to give away the rest of the fishes to my neighbors."

Father Bear and Jake laughed as all went to sit down on the floor to start eating and talking about what's happened in their day.

Father Bear seemed to sense Jake was getting restless and trying to hurry things along. He knew Chosen One had found him.

“Jake, you may be excused and take a rest,” Father Bear pressed. Jake was startled by his quick mind and he looked at his Father Bear. Father Bear nodded.

Jake smiled with thankfulness. He stood up and hugged his Mama Bear to say a good night. He left to go to his room. He locked the door for privacy. Jake took the Golden Book out of hiding place and delicately put it down on a table. He wasn't sure what he would find out from the book. He felt nervousness and scared in a good way. Jake's inner self spoke, “It's fine. Go ahead and open the book. You'll learn great stuff and become a Great Chosen One Bear.”

Jake could not imagine what he is about to learn. His curiosity got the best of him. He opened the Golden Book carefully and turned the page and saw the words engraved on the golden pages. He felt by touching the words and was amazed at the beauty of it. Jake felt goose bumps in a good way when he touched it and wasn't sure why he was feeling so differently. He had an eerie feeling that he could hear the words coming from the pages. He paused. He turned another page with the written introductory words. It says, “No bears can create into perfection but you can create goodness out of your heart to become a Great Bear.”

Jake the Bear saw at the title several times and found these words to be absolutely true. He turned another page and it had the list of contents but it is shown him only one content. He was puzzled why he only can see only one but later he remembers what Balki warned him he will read more chapters that would appear later in the Golden Book when he is ready. He found one on the next page that said “How to recognize your Heart by to be able to discern from the right and wrong.”

Jake wondered about this one. He got more curious and started to turn to the next page and started to read. It took him the rest of the night to read the whole chapter.

Jake was very intrigued and he wondered how to teach the bears the lessons.

"Your heart is a valuable commodity. The heart is created by the Bear Father Heaven. It is granted to every spirit sons and daughters of Bear Father Heaven. The spirit being who is born and enters the Bear World will receive it. The heart is blood pumping organ that is put in the middle of your chest. It is a basic foundation by putting the source and center of your emotional life, where the deepest and sincerest feelings are located and a being is most vulnerable to pain. It can give you the ability to have the compassion to feel kindhearted and unselfish feelings such as affection, love, or warm admiration and your spirit for courage and determination. A identity by a mood, mental state, or depiction of heart; a simple example by a picture of a heart as a rounded, roughly triangular shape, often used to signify love. It is central part the unique, powerful; and individual center of something.

It is very special. It rules inside your being and will define your essential character and personality. The heart is very sensitive. It can be picked up by vibes of your feelings when feeling strong, fragile, soften, harden or broken. It is ruled by you that leads to your heart. It is required of you to discipline your trait. This trait is very important it will form a true of you.

Why do you have this heart inside of you? You are sent on a journey to the Bear World for a test to see if you pass or fail the trail of test. You have to learn how to use your heart among bearkind. You have the choice to choose good and evil. There is no other way.

Your heart is all what you will have left. You will have to take a great care of it for the rest of your days. We all have choice on how your heart will rule you. You already have the power inside you. You must consider if your heart is worthy of you. It's up to you if you can be true to your heart or take the corruption out of your heart. Beware it will grant you the consequences if you abuse it.

If you choose the good, then the good will rule your heart by feeling the joy, happiness, kindness and consideration of yourself and others. It will be grant your happiness in every second. Your heart will be true to you and heal it. Nothing will tarnish it unless you let it in. If you tarnish your heart, it cannot be undo or give a second chance.

If you think that is religion, I would say that is not. This is about your relationship among with your brothers and sisters bears on Bear World. If you want the respect, you deserve from others then it's your job to give them first. They will return the respect back to you. It's your job to make your home a better place.

Don't let others decide that for you. You must make the decisions yourself whether your heart tells you in truth. It's easy to be influenced from someone to distort your thinking. It's important you must set a good example to others by giving a part of your true heart. You won't know how long your heart will beat; when your heart stops, everything in your being will follow.

If your heart stays true to you, your brothers, and sisters on Bear Earth, then Bear Heaven will help save your heart by guiding you to the immortal life.

The flesh and blood and bones are very, very special. Why is that? This is an amazing creation from Bear Father Heaven. He gave this to you as a gift. That's where your spirit dwells. That's your beauty within with the muscles designed in every inch of your being. You can do everything from running, eating, contact, feeling, smelling, thinking, and express to different kinds of emotions! We can receive our special abilities, talents and gifts to use to help bearkind. What a rare commodity we have on Bear Earth! Bear Father Heaven wants us to take extremely great care of it. That's all you can have. If you cut, beat or abuse it, it can give a damage to your body by bad drinks, eating or physical. With this flesh and blood with bones can help you to recognize the good and evil. It can give you weakness or be stronger. We have to learn to overcome our weakness by learning how to overcome in different things.

Your spirit is depending on you. It counts on your mind, heart, words and actions. It will have consequences when you are done with this life; either clean or corrupt. There is no another way. You have to choose one or the another. It applies to every one who lives in the Bear World.

You must take a good care of your Spirit within you. You will be tempted to do good or bad. It will lead you to different kinds of consequences. You will face your consequences no matter what. It can give you happiness or sadness. When you own this body with your precious spirit within, it's your responsibility to care for it. You need to be aware your spirit is very sensitive and vulnerable to be exposed to positive or negative influences. It's up to you to change to resist it or cave in.

Jake was awed and felt his heart beating on his chest and his body. He pondered on what he has learned today. He finally understood why and where he came from and he never knew he was cub from the Bear Heaven from the beginning. It did make sense to him. It's no wonder we all are here for a reason to pass our mortal lessons we learned.

Jake happened to see the next list of contents, "Chapter Two: Pre-existence Life." He blinked at it. It couldn't be. He knew he may be in his imagination but he decided to touch the engraven letters and was amazed it was there. He was feeling unsure what's happening around him so he closed the Golden Book for the night.

The morning came, Jake opened his eyes and immediately remembered reading the Book the night before so he got up and took it out of his hiding place. When he opened the Book, he saw the engraven on the table of content and found it was already there. He touched and felt it was already carved in place. He knew that's reality. He was shocked. He was awed by it and carefully put it back in hiding place.

Jake the Bear reads Lesson One From Golden Book

The sunrise rose over the Bear Mountain. The morning was peaceful. Jake the Bear saw the bears playing in different kinds of games together very happily. Jake liked to see his bears happy with one another. Jake was starting to feel normal after he got the Golden Book. He felt prompted to read some more from the Golden Book about the pre-earth world. The idea came to Jake that he decided to bring the Golden Book to the mountain to read in private. He got excited and ran to his Father Bear to ask for permission to leave the mountains.

Father Bear saw Jake came inside to see him. "Good morning Son, "What brings you here?"

Jake asked him, "Do you need me to do an errand around the kingdom? If not, may I go to my thinking place in the mountains? Will you manage without me for few hours?"

Father Bear smiled, "Yes, I do. We will manage without you until you return. Take your time. You may go."

Jake spoke, "Thank you Father."

Jake ran to his room and packed some of the food and the Golden Book in his bag and took with him. He sprinted too hard into the Forest while he was feeling thrilled by making sudden moves in many directions through the forest to reach to his private sanctuary at the top of the mountains. Jake arrived at the sanctuary and his heart was panting very arduously. He felt good after exercising. As Jake settled down on the ground, he felt the warmth of sunshine upon him. He then was getting ready to read the Golden Book. He opened the Golden Book and saw the page that he felt prompted to start at.

Jake started to read the title where it says, "The Heart which came from the Beginning".

In a faraway in a remote universe, there were unlimited of heavens all over the universe. Many Bear God lived there. The two sexes, male and female, were existence in many worlds. They have raised their spirit children bears who have lived with their Bear parents in heaven. Billions of bear spirits were living together became sons and daughters. They have lived in eternity that they couldn't count the years because their days up in universe is very fast. They are raised as brothers and sisters.

The account that the intelligence and mobility we developed in the pre-mortal world were fundamental to the callings and assignments we were given before we came into the mortal world. They were given different responsibilities to help preparing their brothers and sisters to Bear Earth.

The Bear Spirit children did not have flesh and bones. They are bears in the spirit form but in the bear image. They couldn't touch anything. Their minds were extraordinary. They were excel in many different subjects such as science, art, writing, cook, math, languages, builders and many more. They were learning their own talents, skills and gifts. Their intelligent were beyond the bounds. They saw their Bear Heavenly Father can do many things. They were awed to see what He can do in everything. They wanted and desired to be like him. Bear Heavenly Father did have the heart, flesh and bones. The awe of thought to own the precious possessions on what Bear Heavenly Father has.

The heart. The Bear Spirits who want to own one so they could be able to identify their feelings to comprehend between good and evil. The Bear Heaven Father knew their thoughts as they truly wanted to be like him having the flesh and blood and a heart. He has decided to have a plan for his bear spirits.

At the Grand Council. It was a meeting place where they all can gather together in one place to make decisions together. Billions of bear spirits surrounded the Bear Heavenly Father. He stood up and to start to make the proclamation. "To all my Beloved Sons and Daughters. I have known your desire and thoughts on what you have desired to have what I have. The heart and flesh and bones. You shall have your desire but there are essential things that you all must have to obtain those. I will plan to create the Bear World for you in order to receive a new heart with their flesh and blood to live in to be tested to know the good and evil and the plan of salvation. And with one exception your memories of living here in this premortal life will be removed to discern good and the evil and the agency of how you will choose to live on the Bear World.

The plan of salvation is essential to help us to return home. This plan provided when you live on Bear Earth to be tested and would have moral agency to choose. When The Fall is previously set up that the first bear parents performed their first sin in the Garden of Eden, the plan of salvation will be provided to the mankind by the Savior, a mediator, who would provide the means whereby you could succeed in this earth-life experience and return home to our Bear Heavenly Father. It's required for you to know the good and evil."

All of the bear spirits were shocked and shouted for joy! They exchanged their conversations among their brothers and sisters. All of the spirit bears knew this is only way to obtain these precious plans and they shouted "Yes" as they all have agreed. The Bear Heavenly Father heard their approval to their plans and put into motion and the declaration was made afterwards and then gaze upon the great host of noble and great ones among them stands one like unto Bear Heavenly Father. He is the great Jehovah, the Firstborn of the Father heard him saying: "Unto those who are with him," unto Michael and a great host of valiant souls: "We will go down, for there is space there, and we will take of these materials that all forms of life were created in heaven "spiritually before they were naturally upon the face of the earth." We will make an earth whereon these may dwell; and we will prove them herewith, to see if they will do all things whatsoever the Bear Lord their God shall command."

The period of creation is six days to complete. In the beginning, on the first day, the Bear Heavenly Father with his spirit bears went to into the universe in search for a sphere to help create with. They saw unorganized sphere that was without form, void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep in the universe as they knew that's the right place to create the Bear World. Bear Heavenly Father used his priesthood power to order an unorganized sphere into shape. It becomes the Bear Earth.

The First Day—Bear Father in Heaven, Jehovah, Michael, a host of noble and great ones—all these played their parts. "The Gods" created the atmospheric heavens and the temporal earth. It was "without form, and void"; as yet it could serve no useful purpose with respect to the salvation of man. It was "empty and desolate"; life could not yet exist on its surface; it was not yet a fit abiding place for those sons of God who shouted for joy at the prospect of a mortal probation. The waters of the great deep were present, and “darkness reigned” until the divine decree: “Let there be light.” The light and the darkness were then divided, the one being called “Day” and the other “Night.” Clearly our planet was thus formed as a revolving orbit and placed in its relationship to our sun.

The Second Day—On this day “the waters” were “divided” between the surface of the earth and the atmospheric heavens that surround it. A “firmament” or an “expanse” called “Heaven” was created to divide “the waters which were under the expanse from the waters which were above the expanse.” Thus, as the creative events unfold, provision seems to be made for clouds and rain and storms to give life to that which will yet grow and dwell upon the earth.

The Third Day—This is the day when life began. In it “the waters under the heaven” were “gathered together unto one place,” and the “dry land” appeared. The dry land was called “Earth,” and the assembled waters became “the Sea.” This is the day in which “the Gods organized the earth to bring forth” grass and herbs and plants and trees; and it is the day in which vegetation in all its varied forms actually came forth from the seeds planted by the Creators. This is the day when the decree went forth that grass, herbs, and trees could each grow only from “its own seed,” and that each could in turn bring forth only after its own “kind.” And thus the bounds of the plant and vegetable kingdoms were set by the hands of those by whom each varied plant and tree was made.

The Fourth Day—After seeds in all their varieties had been planted on the earth; after these had sprouted and grown; after each variety was prepared to bring forth fruit and seed after its own kind—the Creators organized all things in such a way as to make their earthly garden a productive and beautiful place. They then “organized the lights in the expanse of the heaven” so there would be “seasons” and a way of measuring “days” and “years.” We have no way of knowing what changes then took place in either the atmospheric or the sidereal heavens, but during this period the sun, moon, and stars assumed the relationship to the earth that now is theirs. At least the light of each of them began to shine through the lifting hazes that enshrouded the newly created earth so they could play their parts with reference to life in all its forms as it soon would be upon the new orb.

The Fifth Day—Next came fish and fowl and “every living creature” whose abode is “the waters.” Their Creators placed them on the newly organized earth, and they were given the command: “Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the sea; and let fowl multiply in the earth.” This command—as with a similar decree given to man and applicable to all animal life—they could not then keep, but they soon would be able to do so. Appended to this command to multiply was the heaven-sent restriction that the creatures in the waters could only bring forth “after their kind,” and that “every winged fowl” could only bring forth “after his kind.” There was no provision for evolvment or change from one species to another.

The Sixth Day—The crowning day of creation is at hand. In its early hours, the great Creators “made the beasts of the earth after their kind, and cattle after their kind, and everything that creepeth upon the earth after his kind.” And the same procreative restrictions applied to them that apply to all forms of life; they too are to reproduce only after their kind.

All that we have recited is now accomplished, but what of man? Is bear found upon the earth? He is not. And so “the God,” having so counseled among themselves, said: “Let us go down and form bear in our image, after our likeness. . . . So the God went down to organize bear in their own image, in the image of the God to form thy him, male and female to form thy them.” They then did as they had counseled, and the most glorious of all the creative acts was accomplished. Bear is the crowning creature to step forth according to the divine will. He is in the image and likeness of the Eternal Father Bear, and to him is given “dominion” over all things. And, then, finally, that his purposes shall roll everlastingly onward, God blesses the “male and female” whom he has created and commands them: “Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it, and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moves upon the earth.” As the “sixth day” closes, the Creators, viewing their creative labors with satisfaction, see that “all things” which they have “made “are “very good.”

Thus the heavens and the earth were finished.

Bear Heavenly Father saw the Earth, he was gladly to know that His creations show his love for us. What a beautiful world. Think of the sun, which gives us warmth and light. Think of the rain, which makes plants grow and makes the world feel clean and fresh. Think of how good it is to hear a bird singing or a friend laughing. Think of how wonderful our bodies are—how we can work and play and rest. When we consider all of these creations, they will begin to understand what wise, powerful, and loving beings Jesus Christ the Bear and our Bear Heavenly Father are. They have shown great love for us by providing for all of our needs.

Plant life and animal life were also made to give us joy. The Lord said, “Yea, all things which come of the earth, in the season thereof, are made for the benefit and the use of man, both to please the eye and to gladden the heart; yea, for food and for raiment, for taste and for smell, to strengthen the body and to enliven the soul”. Even though God’s creations are many, He knows and loves them all. He said, “All things are numbered unto me, for they are mine and I know them”. Bear Heavenly Father spoke, "Let us return to heaven".

At the Grand Council every Bear Spirits were gathered together once again surrounding the Bear Heavenly Father. Bear Heavenly Father spoke, we have created your Bear World. Every living thing were created and there are few left to do. I need two things to make this to happen. I need a Savior who can help the bearkind and who will be the first bear parents.

The Savior will be the center of your heart and will be the only bear who can save you by your change of heart with his atonement by accepting the plan of salvation. You will give your sins to the Savior and accept the atonement. You must change your heart by willing to listen to the Savior and plan of salvation.

The first two brothers named Jehovah the bear and Sun in the Morning the bear. One brother who is the Sun of the Morning saying, "Behold, here am I, send me. I will be thy son, and I will redeem all mankind, that one soul shall not be lost, and surely I will do it; wherefore give me thine honor".

Jehovah spoke, "Father, thy will be done, and the glory be thine forever".

As the Bear Heavenly Father stood up and lift his paws and spoke, "I have chosen my firstborn as the Savior and Redeemer".

Those who did not sustain the choice rebelled. It became war in heaven with heated of words and became out of control .

Those who did forget an essential thing. Everything is Bear Heavenly Father's will. About half of the billion spirit were at war until the Bear Heavenly Father took the stand and said, "Let's take a side who wants support my plan." So they did. As billions of bear children became divided half to half who support him. The Spirit Bears pleading to their brothers and sisters to come over to their side to support Bear Heavenly Father 's plan. Many of them went back and forth until it became final with one thirds who rebelled and two thirds stayed true. The Bear Heavenly Father spoke, "To those who have opposed me shall not get a heart, flesh and bones and will remain in Spirits for all eternity." He looked at all the noble and great ones ranks and commanded, "Thrust to all who have opposed my plan to the Earth."

One third of those who followed Sun in the Morning were casted of the Bear Heaven to land in the Bear World.

All the spirit sons and daughters were shocked. They were weeping and mourn for their sons and daughters, brothers and sisters they all knew them. They were lost to us forever. They lost their first estate by receiving the heart and flesh and bones. They will never knew the experience of the real happiness. Their weeping continued for their loved ones.

The Bear Heavenly Father spoke, "For those who are still here and all have chosen to follow my will. We all mourn for them. They will become our unknown enemy to fight against us to destroy our Heart for good. They will be named as a Destroyer and his angels. They will know you and they will lead you into the wrong path or will try to destroy your happiness on Bear Earth. You will be born at appointed time and be tested to choose for the good or for the evil. You will be given a heart with flesh and bones to become living being when you are created in the bear's womb. You will have no recollections of your first home in Heaven once you leave here to Bear World to be born. You can choose who become your Bear Parents, a spouse, your cubs. You will know your destination where you will be born."

As their weeping has ceased, they then listened intently to Bear Heavenly Father giving us the information how to proceed our journey in the Bear World.

I have created the Golden Trees and put in all over the Bear World. You all male bears will be appointed as Chosen Ones in various destinations. Those who chose the Savior will must change your Heart by accepting the plan of salvation. Of course you have the agency to choose for yourself. That is a worthy calling to help your brothers and sisters to return home in the Bear Heaven.

I have created a garden with a Golden Tree that will make known to the first bears who draw their first breath. This tree will give the first bears an opportunity to learn about us and where they first came from. One of the Chosen One will appear to them to instruct both bears to learn how to live on the Bear Earth.

Now I have chosen who will be the first male and female bear. The first male bear on earth is Michael the noble rank and the first female bear is Eve. On the earth, their names will be Adam and Eve. They will be multiply and replenish on Bear World. They will receive their new heart and will enter their own flesh and blood bear form. Jehovah and I will take them with us so now it's time to wish them well and may cross paths. Many spirit brothers and sisters were surrounding their brother and sister wishing them well.

As the Bear Heavenly Father and Bear God were waiting for them to be ready to depart the Bear Heaven to the Bear World, the brother and sister were approaching to them and spoke, "We are ready." "Very good." Let's proceed as they are using their power to travel into the universe and arrived at the garden in the Bear World. As they arrived, they saw the creation of the male bears laying on the ground waiting to become a living being. Bear Heavenly Father stood by his bear son and daughter. This is Bear World. You can see your new bear form. Once you enter in your bear form, I will breath of life into your nostrils to become living soul. You will not remember us but I will be here to prepare and instruct you. "Are you ready?" The bear son nodded. He walked to enter the bear form. Bear Heavenly Father breathed into their nostrils the breath of life; and became a living soul.

And I, the Lord God, took the male bear, and put him into the Garden of Eden, to dress it, and to keep it. Bear Heavenly Father, formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air and commanded that they should come unto Adam, to see what he would call them; and they were also living souls; for I, Bear Heavenly Father, breathed into them the breath of life, and commanded that whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that should be the name thereof.

And I, the Lord God, spoke unto Jehovah and Michael, that "It is not good that the male bear should be alone; therefore, I will make an help meet for him. And then I caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam; and he slept: and I took one of his ribs and closed up the flesh instead thereof; and the rib which I had taken from male bear, made he woman bear, and brought her unto the male bear."

And Adam said: "This I know now is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called Woman bear, because she was taken out of Man bear." Bear Heavenly Father married Adam and Eve in Garden of Eden. Therefore shall a man bear leaves his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife; and they shall be one flesh.

And Adam called his wife Eve, because she was the mother of all living; for thus have I, the Bear Heavenly Father, called the first of all women, which are many.

As they received the breath of life, they stood up and face to face with Bear Heavenly Father. I give you commandment that you will multiply and replenish the Bear Earth. He commanded the male bear, saying, "Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat. But of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it, nevertheless, thou mayest choose for thyself, for it is given unto thee; but, remember that I forbid it, for in the day thou eatest thereof thou shall surely die. We shall return again to give you further instructions."

Bear Heavenly Father and Jehovah left the Bear World to return to Bear Heaven. They are watching the Bear World in a distance to watch over their bears. In Bear Heaven, Bear Heavenly Father continues preparing his sons and daughters to enter the Bear World when their time was appointed.

And on the seventh day Bear God ended his work which he had made and all rested from all the work which they created and made. And Bear God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it; because that in it he had rested from all his work which Bear God created and made.

When Jake finished reading, he was enthralled at how much he had learned from this Golden Book. He felt his body filled with goosebumps tingling in his body and his brain was more energized. He found that was very unique and that his soul was singing. He liked the feeling inside and knew these words were true.

He looked up and saw at the beauty around him and was awed the sight of it. As he looked up in sky, he silently thanked Bear Heavenly Father for the beauty of the Bear World to live in.

He closed the book and knew it was getting late so he hid the Book in bag. He ran back to the Bear Mountain with smile on his face feeling he was a new bear with gained knowledge!

Jake the Bear Meets New Friend

He felt inspired that he needed to do with his time. Jake wanted to find a special friend that he could hang with or go hunting with. So Jake walked to his special place in the cave where it could help him to think. He then realized he remembered his grandfather's adventures. Then Jake fell asleep and started to dream.

He found himself beside his grandfather. Jake was shocked to see his grandfather in person. "Grandfather, how did I get here? Are you for real?" Jake asked in panic. His grandfather reassured him, "Yes, I am real and I am in the Bear Heaven. Don't be afraid. You are the Chosen One to be here to see me from time to time when you need me for assistance." Jake was overjoyed to see him again and started to listen to his words telling him something important and saw a vision of the land. His grandfather was telling him about the land called Water Bear Land where his grandfather used to help the King. The land had many waters in different shapes. One had a waterfall, a deep cold lake to swim with ice water slides, and lots of fish in it. Their food supply was berries, greens and fish. Grandfather encouraged Jake to go visit there.

"You will find a special friend there. You can start your journey."

Jake asked, "What about my meeting with Balki the Chosen One?" Grandfather reassured him not to worry, "You will still have an opportunity to meet him again. Balki will find you anywhere." Then Jake suddenly woke up amazedly. He was awed that he saw his Grandfather in his dream and remembered what he told Jake. He had a special privilege to see his Grandfather from time to time. He was overjoyed to be able to see his Grandfather again. He remembered the conversation he had with him about the Water Bear Land. He became very excited and wanted to go. He wondered where he would meet a new friend out there. He decided to leave quickly for home and to prepare for his trip to locate the Water Bear Land.

Jake saw Father Bear and Momma Bear and ran to them. Jake asked his Father Bear questions about the Water Bear Land and where he could go.

Father Bear asked Jake, "Why are you interested in the Water Bear Land?" Jake answered, "Because I wanted to see it. I started to feel restless here. Would it be okay if I leave today?"

Father Bear went to Jake and put his paws on his shoulders, "We will grant your journey. We will miss you. Come home soon."

Momma Bear made a fuss with Jake. She hugged Jake and showed her affection.

"Don't forget to eat. Please keep yourself safe."

Momma Bear was a tiny bear with a beautiful white fur same color as Jake's. Her orange eyes looked like a fire. She always is elated with joy in many things. She was a kind and loveable bear.

Jake got excited and went into his room and picked up his gear to pack his clothing, food and the Golden Book. He knew he had to keep his gear with him at all times. He was ready to go and ran through the mountains. He followed the scent of water. It guided him to the land that has many waters. Jake's journey took many turns and he became lost along the way. He couldn't find his way there to the Water Bear Land. He became tired and hungry. He regretted not listening to Momma Bear and bringing more food with him. He felt he was losing his energy. He needed to find something to eat. He was getting more fatigued, feeling weaker and weaker. He fell down.

Then all of sudden, he found many different kinds of strange foods lying on the ground. Jake became puzzled. Why did he see the strange foods all over the ground? He decided to start sniffing to see if the food would taste good. Then all of sudden, Jake saw a huge fish flying down on the ground. His stomach started to growled so loud. He ran and grabbed the fish.

Suddenly, Jake ran into another bear. Jake became frozen when he saw a beautiful girl bear that had a big sky blue eyes with a white and orange shiny fur that stuck out. She wore a pink slip in dress with white lei flower in her hair that smelled like jasmine. The girl bear then backed away, and became afraid of him. She started to run away.

Jake tried to tell her not to be afraid, but she ran. Suddenly Jake felt sad. The blue eyed bear ran away from him. Jake needed to get his energy back and he ate half of the fish and saved the other half for the girl bear. Jake decided to go look for her, carrying the fish in his mouth.

Jake kept sniffing the ground and found the tracks that belonged to the girl bear. Jake decided to follow where her tracks went. Jake kept following the bear's track until he found the land that has many waters.

Jake was awed when he viewed the Water Bear Land and saw there were so many waters in different shapes that were very beautiful! It was the same one he had in his dream!

Jake ran to the big waters. He saw the girl bear hunting for fish under the water in the pond. Jake was delighted and went to the pond to meet the girl bear.

The girl bear saw Jake approaching her and was afraid. Jake told her not to be afraid and told her his name. Jake walked near the pond and gave half of the fish to her. Jake started to tell her about him and his grandfather visiting here in this land. So the girl bear then moved closer to Jake and introduced herself. Her name was Frizzy the bear.

Frizzy questioned Jake, "Where did you come from? Why did you come here to the Water Bear Land?"

Jake admitted, "I was bored so I've decided to come and visit. I came from the Bear Mountain Land. I need a change of scenery for a while. Is it OK if I stay for a few days?"

"Sure, that's fine. I will introduce you to my bear family and you can stay with us as long as you need." Frizzy spoke happily.

Frizzy brought Jake to her village to meet her bear family. When her bear parents saw Frizzy bring a friend in the village, King James saw them and approached them.

Frizzy introduced, "Father, this is Jake the Bear from the Bear Mountain Land. He's Justus the Bear's grandson. He wanted to visit us."

King James and the bear family were overjoyed to meet Jake and told him, "I'm King James. Ah it's you. I do remember you, Jake. You were little cub when you're with your Grandfather. who took you with him on his travels. You're so grown so big! I'm so happy to see you. You are welcome to stay with us for few days. You're also welcome to eat with us during your visits. Everyone in the family was delighted to have a new company to visit. Let's stay with us for the day. Frizzy will accompany you around the Water Bear Land starting tomorrow."

Jake expressed his gratitude for welcoming him to stay. Jake stayed with Frizzy's family to hunt and play with them for many days. Jake and Frizzy became best friends and never wanted to be separated from one another.

Jake enjoyed his time with King James and his family. King James was a short and chubby bear and had a dark gray fur to make him look very handsome bear. He wore a black lei skirt weaved together. He had a sense of humor to make every bear to laugh with his jokes. Mama Bear was a short and skinny. She had soft-looking eyes that make her look younger with her orange fur that makes her look beautiful.

One morning, King James took Jake for a walk to enjoy the one-on-one company. King James spoke with Jake, "I wanted you to know all about Frizzy. She is very special bear to us. She is very different than all bears in this land. When she was cub, she always wanted to learn the man things hunting, fishing and do the man's work. I always took her along when she begged to go with me. So I did. I had assumed she would change her mind after we're done with hunting. But she never did. When she was with me and the men bears, she had her uncanny ability to tell us where the food would come from. My men bears weren't appreciative when a small girl cub tells them where the food comes from. King James laughed when he remembered the incident so long ago. Many men bears chose to ignore her and went to their separate ways; but I chose to heed her to see for myself. When she ran to where the food would be at. She is very good hunter. She even taught me how to hunt; but, anyway she would showed me where the food would be at. To my amazement, she was right so we hunted and caught food. We did hunt two more times. She found two more for us! I knew she is special cub. She has always been a sole provider for the family ever since then. She is fearless when she hunts or fishing. She brought so much food for us but the men bears brought so little. It blew their pride away. Sometimes she was mocked or inflicted by insults from them. She can't help with her special talent. She felt she was not special but cursed with her special abilities. But you being here, she is different bear. You don't think any differently about her. She feels ease being with you and very happy to do anything around the Water Bear Land. I wanted you to know I am very grateful to you for not to think less of her. Your being here is godsend!"

Jake is amazed to hear about Frizzy's circumstances remarking, "Frizzy is great bear. She is great hunter and fisherman. I thought it was you taught her but it was she. I do respect the abilities some bears have possessed. You did the right thing by telling her she did have the one of the special abilities. The greatest gift you and your family did have the true Heart. Don't ever change. You all will be truly blessed all your days on Bear earth."

King James cried and is very happy to know his little family will be truly blessed. King James hugged Jake and said, "Thank you. You do have a true Heart as well."

King James and Jake took their rest from their walk to enjoy visit with other bears around the Water Bear Land.

Frizzy shared with Jake the stories about this Water Bear Land and Jake shared with Frizzy about his land. Both of them were fascinated with their stories. They started to play in the waters; and she showed Jake many wonderful things in the land for many days. Jake loved to stay in the Water Bear Land. The bears were constantly in the water to fish and swim. The bears wore a special garment to swim that protected their furs. They lived in a small village. There were many huts in different areas. Some huts were close together and others were separated in the distance.

Jake asked Frizzy if she wanted to go fishing with him.

Frizzy got excited and said, "Yes, let's plan on going to the ocean to fish for bigger fish! We need tons of fish for our village to share!"

"Tons? How many are we talking about?" Jake teased her.

Frizzy rolled her eyes, "You know I am exaggerating. I don't mean it literally"

Jake laughed. "Great! We will leave sunrise", Jake informed her.

They arose at dawn and ran with their fishing nets on their backs. They arrived at the ocean. When they both saw the sparkling blue water, they became excited. They prepared the nets to put inside the ocean to help bring the fishes to the net.

While they waited, they went out to explore many places around the Water Bear land. When the afternoon came, they went back to the ocean to check their nets and found there were so many big fishes ready to collect. They got very excited and looked forward to eating them. Both worked to get the nets folded together with fishes in them to carry on their backs. They ran back to the village with their catch.

When Jake and Frizzy arrived in the village and saw the girl bears approaching them. One of the girl bears had made mean comments of Frizzy and told Jake, "Why do you hang around with her? She will never be one of us because she always does what boy bears do and helps them to hunt and do things like that. She has been an oddity since she was a little cub. She always has gone wandering around freely in Water Bear Land."

Frizzy felt so hurt and humiliated by the girl bears. But the worst thing was that Jake had to hear all of it about her. So Frizzy dumped the net and ran away from them. Jake felt so bad and hurt for Frizzy. Jake realized that he never thought differently about her. He had enjoyed being with Frizzy and spending time with her hunting while she showed him her Water Bear Land.

Jake got angry at the girl bears and told them "You should be ashamed among yourselves of what you did to Frizzy. It was Frizzy that helped bring food to share with your bears. She has not thought of herself, but she wanted to help you bears to be happy to have a plenty of food."

The girl bears felt bad about their behavior and left him. Jake then left and ran to search for Frizzy. Then Jake heard a crying sound so he came closer to it. He saw her hideout and went inside. He sat down with her trying to comfort her.

Frizzy said, "You shouldn't be here with me. I am an oddity."

Jake stopped her and said, "When I first met you, you were afraid and ran away. I was sad. When I found you, I was very delighted to see you again. I do enjoy spending time with you, going hunting, and seeing at the wonderful places in the Water Bear Land. You told me many wonderful stories about my grandfather. You gave me much more than anyone else has. You have made me very happy when we do things together. You are unique and have a wonderful heart. You thought not about yourself, but you make the time for others. Your bear family accepts who you are and that makes you more special. Don't try to change anything to be like other girl bears."

Frizzy looked at Jake and asked, "Really?"

Jake nodded, "Yes! Why would I lie about those things to make you feel better? The rarity you have inside of yourself is goodness, kindness and respect. Not many bears have compassion toward others. You have a special gift. Never hid it from others."

Frizzy felt a warm feeling all over her and knew Jake spoke the truth. She knew that her bear family had said the same things while she was growing up. She finally accepted and understood about herself.

After Jake and Frizzy resolved the problem, they returned to where they left the nets. They returned to the village and saw the bears sitting around. Jake saw the girl bears were among them and knew he had the responsibilities as the Chosen One. He thought of an idea. Something that his Grandfather used to do by sharing a story with them. He decided to do it and announced that he wanted to tell a story to all the bears. Jake and Frizzy sat down. Jake began his story.

"My grandfather taught me something important when I was a young cub. He told me a story about a girl bear that was different from all the rest of her girl bears in her clan. She had special gift. She couldn't hear but she has the ability to foresee things that could happen. She protected her clan. She could do anything the boy bears did. She was beautiful, but many bears thought she was strange. Her bear parents loved her for the way she was and told her she was wonderful person with great heart. She didn't believe her bear parents until the day a boy bear from another land saw that she was beautiful, smart and kind. He was the bear that all of the other girls bears thought was the best bear of all. He chose her over the rest of the girl bears because she had a great heart, helped others, and was beautiful."

Frizzy was awed and asked Jake, "Was she happy?"

Jake replied, "Yes! I believe so. I was taught never to judge any bears. It is better that we are different and have our own unique talents. We can learn from one another. If we were all the same, it wouldn't be fun. We are all special in our own ways. Sometimes our abilities, talents or gifts can be strange to you; but, if they are used for good to help others for bearkind, then it's very good."

The girls nodded in agreement. The girl bears told Frizzy, "We are truly sorry for the way we acted toward you and please forgive us. Jake is right. We are all special in different ways."

Frizzy spoke, "Yes, you all are forgiven." Frizzy felt so much joyful to be a part of them!

Several bears from the village spoke, "I'm good at weaving. One says, "I'm good being a storyteller." Other bear says, "I'm good with climbing trees." Little cub says, "I'm good at growling." Then all went laughing. Everyone felt being in harmony with one another.

Frizzy's bear parents hugged their bear daughter and thanked Jake for sharing the story with them.

King James shouted, "Let's celebrate! Jake and Frizzy got us a bigger fish catch today." Everyone cheered and went to their separate ways.

Jake the Bear Leaves the Water Bear Land

Jake felt great doing his Chosen One duty by sharing the story to help Frizzy's circumstances. Frizzy finally acknowledged that she is special. She was glad she had talent that was very special to help her bears by providing food for her clan.

It was busiest time of the year for the bears. It was getting hotter with scorching sun starting early in the day. Jake helped the male bears to replace and build new straw huts. They had to demolish several huts due to decay of the straws. They needed to go other islands by boat to collect long and strong branches to help hold the huts in place. They had to chop off the strongest and longest branches they could find. It was hard work. It took them all day long to accomplish the task. They had to put the branches on several rafts with ropes around the branches to keep them in place. Some bears left with one raft to bring to the Water Bear Land. Each bear took a raft back when it became filled up.

The female bears needed to split in two areas. Some were working in the fields to collect the straws. Some were weaving to put straw together by creating vines.

The cubs were helping by bringing the straws from the fields to where the weaving was taking place. Some of the cubs were helping by holding the straw at a distance to help the female bears weave the vines easily. This weaving together would make the huts very solid and strong enough to withstand the winds and storms.

The male bears arrived and brought the branches to the female bears so they could start patching the walls and the roofs into shape.

After they were done making their huts, they finished the huts by putting the branches into the ground. It was hard labor for the last part. They were very exhausted after a long few days.

Jake was awed to see King James working along with the bears; even he also helped female bears and cubs with other tasks. He did not feel any superior with them. He was equal and fair toward the bears by working with each of the bears. When they saw it was over, the bears stood together and were very proud of their endeavors. King James was in the midst and he stood up on the rock facing to the multitude by announcing, "I want all of you bears to know that I am proud all of us to be able to work together as team to make our village livable place. We are family. Thank you all of you for being charitable by giving your time to help us. It's our duty to help others. I wanted to thank Jake's willingness to help us." The bears cheered and patted on Jake's back or shook his paw by thanking him. Jake was feeling humbled and amazed at King James' gratitude to his bears. He was glad that King James was part of them by working along with them to make their home truly a happy one.

The male bears needed to go out to hunt for food. Jake loved to hunt and wanted to go with Frizzy and the bears. They went into the Forest on other side of the island to hunt different animals. They brought back fishes and meat for the village.

After the hard work was finished, they wanted to play harder by preparing for a big tournament in the Water Bear Land.

Jake was at Frizzy's home to eat with her family. Frizzy asked Jake to see if he wanted to join the water sports by competing with bears.

Jake liked the idea to join with Frizzy. He answered, "Sure. I would love to join you." King James was teasing Jake, "Beware of Frizzy. She's good at what she does." He laughed and then an idea popped out in his mind. He thought about to having the water sports tournament in the Water Bear Land.

King James was awestruck, "I have the most amazing idea to ask you. Tell me what do you think of this idea?" Frizzy and Jake were listening to King James about his idea. He explained that we will have the Water Sports Tournament here in the Water Bear Land to compete rafting, fishing, water slides, water skiing and canoe tournaments. Two kingdoms can come to join the tournament.

Frizzy and Jake's eyes were wide. They were excited and did love King James' idea. Frizzy said, "Yes! We can plan on this. We can make announcement to the Bears in the morning and see if they approve the tournament."

King James can feel their excitement from his daughter bear and Jake, "Wonderful, I will start the proclamation at sunrise the next day." Jake and Frizzy got excited to get involved in this activity.

The King James sent the request to every bears to come at the sunrise to hear his speech. The Water Land Bears were murmuring among in the village and wondering what King James has to say. They, however, were anxious to come and know what King James would say. They hoped it would be very good news.

When the sunrise came, the King James was surprised to see every bears waiting for him to make his appearance. He saw their anxious faces and were hoping good news. He felt compassion for his bears.

He saw Frizzy and her friend Jake who stood behind him. He nodded and he's ready to make the announcement.

King James stood before multitude and spoke, "I am glad to make my appearance before you today. I have a wonderful idea to share with you. I hope you will feel as much enthusiasm as we Frizzy, Jake and I have. For a few days, we worked so hard so that we would have something fun to play. I have the amazing idea to have the Water Sports Tournament in a few days. We will have rafting, canoeing, water slides, skiing and fishing tournaments. I will invite two Kingdoms to come to compete. So I hope you will agree to have this event in the Water Bear Land."

Every Water Bears cheered up and loved the idea by chanting, "Yes, yes, yes!"

King James was feeling pleased, burst and smiled, "Wonderful! Let's plan right now. We will need to send the announcement to two Kingdoms to come starting today. Two volunteers will take the epistles to the Kingdoms and start preparation for each event starting now. The meeting concluded."

The Bears scattered and began their preparation for the tournament. Their excitement were in high gear. King James, Jake and Frizzy smiled and were very pleased to see the greater outcome.

They started to make announcements to make the invitation to other Kingdoms to attend the events. They would have fishing, water slide, water skiing, rafting and canoeing tournaments.

All of the bears were very excited to join and win the prizes; if they won the tournament. They would get a fishing pole, water mat, water skis, raft, and canoe. All the bears were excited and wanted to win these prizes.

The bears started to set up in each event by decorating with flags, marks and lines for the tournament to help bears to know where to go in races. There set up the firefly lanterns hanging them everywhere to light up the Water Bear Land so they could continue the tournaments at nighttime. Each event would take place from sunrise to sunset.

Today was the day for the bears to arrive in the Water Bear Land. It was an exciting day for the bears. The bears from different kingdoms brought their own gear such as fishing poles, raft, canoes, water mats, and water skiing boards with them. They started to register themselves to become participants in the tournament. There were so many bears swarming everywhere and it was impossible to count how many came. The bears were sitting and anxiously waiting for water sliding to begin. No one wanted to miss any of the sports!

King James stood up and announced, "I want to welcome you bears who came from different kingdoms. It's exciting opportunity that you all are here for the tournament. Each of the sports will take place on different days. I want to wish you bears the best of luck. The water slide will begin after the explanation of rules."

The crowd went wild. There were about forty participants climbing up waiting for their turn. The water slides were very high and huge. The bears needed to complete the water slides in under a minute with their cool turns and twists. It took all day for bears to compete and they were down to last winner.

The second day came. The fishing tournament started with twenty participants. They need to catch the most fish with their paws in five minutes. Whoever had the biggest number wins.

The third day came. The skiing tournament began with twenty-five participants. The judges picked who's had the best performance in skiing.

The fourth day came. The canoeing tournament had five canoes followed by hiking the trail for three miles back and forth. Whoever got to the finish line first wins.

The fifth day came. The rafting tournament had ten rafters to compete. The river had good waves. They started at sunrise to begin the game. It took them all day; and, whoever got to the destination first won.

It was great week for all the bears. The winners got their prizes and the audience cheered. The bears were ready to head for home.

When they completed building new huts and the tournament, the bears went out for activities such as water sliding, catching fish in the water, swimming and laying in the sun. Everyone had a blast.

Jake had been missed reading the Golden Book since he left his home. He was feeling the urge to read again but his timing wasn't good.

He had the intuition for a few days it was time for him to return to his Bear Mountain. Jake wasn't ready to leave yet, but he knew he had responsibilities at home. He knew he was needed at home so he couldn't stay much longer. He felt so torn that he had to leave his best friend, Frizzy and the Water Bear Land behind. Jake truly wanted Frizzy to come with him to his homeland in the Bear Mountain to visit, but he was afraid to ask her. Jake was worried that she may not want to come or may not like living there where Jake lived. Jake knew it was very different from his home. So Jake sat down on the rock feeling sad all day long. He wasn't sure what to do.

Later that day, Frizzy began to notice that her best friend Jake was missing. Frizzy started to search for him all over the Water Bear Land, but she could not find him anywhere. Frizzy tried to think of where to find him. Frizzy suddenly realized where she could find Jake.

She ran to the rock place where the bears could oversee the Water Bear Land. Frizzy hoped to find him there. She went up to the rock place and looked out over all the land and got very excited when she found him. She ran where Jake was.

Frizzy was glad to find him, but it stopped her from calling out to him. She saw his depressing countenance and didn't want Jake to see her looking at him. She hid behind the rock wondering why Jake was feeling so alone and by himself. Frizzy was afraid to go near Jake and ask him what's wrong. She decided to leave him alone. She walked, pondered, and thought maybe Jake misses his family and friends up at the Mountain. But Frizzy would miss him very terribly if Jake left the Water Bear Land.

She was afraid to ask him to go with him to his homeland. All of sudden, Frizzy felt so sad too. Her family and friends asked what was wrong, but Frizzy wouldn't talk to anyone. She went to her favorite hiding place to mourn.

The evening came to the Water Bear Land. Jake decided to quit feeling sorry for himself, and knew he wouldn't solve his problem doing this. He decided to go see Frizzy and her family. She wasn't there. He wondered where she must have been gone to.

Frizzy's bear family asked him, "Did you and Frizzy have an argument? We were concerned about Frizzy. We tried getting her to confide in us, but she refused to share her sorrows with us. Do you know anything that would cause her to be sad?"

"I didn't see her all day today and no, we neither have the argument nor do I have any idea why she was sad. I will go find her and resolve her concerns," Jake replied.

Jake left their home. He came up with an idea. He realized that he could ask for his grandfather's wisdom to help guide him to solve his dilemma. He went out to find a private spot so he can communicate with the Heavenly Bear. He started to call to the Heavenly Bear and ask for his grandfather's help. Jake told him about his problem. Jake waited and waited for a long time to get an answer from the Heavenly Bear but it never came. Then he fell asleep and started to have a dream.

Jake saw himself sitting by his grandfather. Jake was overjoyed to see his grandfather again.

Grandfather asked, "Do you need my help? What do you need to know what to do with Frizzy?" Jake told him about his wonderful friend Frizzy the Bear. He told his grandfather about his dilemma; that he had a hard time not wanting to leave his best friend Frizzy. His grandfather comforted his grandson and said he knew what a true heart Frizzy has. He showed Jake where Frizzy was below the Heaven. He saw her in her favorite hiding place. Jake saw Frizzy and realized how sad she was. Jake looked at his grandfather and asked why Frizzy was so sad.

"Do you realize that she knows you may miss your home and knows you may leave her? She will go with you anywhere as long you asked her." Jake exclaimed, "Really?"

"Jake, if you are unsure about something or someone you will need to stop using your insecurities with your fear. If you are afraid it will create problems and delays that you don't need, then fear not. You already have your own strength and courage inside of you but you need to face it by getting that out of yourself. Don't worry what other bears think of you. Don't let the troubles get you. Show them what you believe in is right. You need to learn to use it and teach the bears to do the same," Grandfather scolded him.

"I'm sorry Grandfather. I didn't think it would create problems. I will make things right. I will remember your wisdom next time", Jake said humbly.

Suddenly, he woke up from his dream, feeling his energy renewed. He became overjoyed and knew what his answer would be. He knew Frizzy would be very happy to leave with him to go to the Bear Mountain. So Jake ran and ran faster to go where she was. Jake called her, "Friiiiiizzyyyy, come on out of your hiding place."

Frizzy's head shook up, heard him and went out of her hiding place.

"What's wrong? Are you OK? I am right here," she called.

Jake saw her and tried to speak, but stopped and tried to catch up with his breathing. He spoke again and explained the reasons why he was in hiding all day yesterday, feeling sorry for himself. I owe you an apology for my actions that caused you to worry. I should have been forthcoming and asked you a question rather than worrying with answers that are not real.

"Oh, what question do you need to ask me?" Frizzy asked.

"I knew I needed to go home soon; therefore, I was sad all day today." Jake confessed.

Frizzy asked him, "Do you miss your home and your family?"

"I do miss my family. The reason is I knew I had to return home because of my responsibilities at the Kingdom. I realized I couldn't depart here and leave you behind. I wanted to ask you if you would like to come with me to the Bear Mountain to visit." Frizzy's eyes popped open very wide. She was shocked.

She asked, "Really? Are you sure? You want me to go with you?"

Jake nodded at her.

She got even more excited and said, "YES! I do want to go with you."

Frizzy went jumping up and down and hugged Jake. Jake and Frizzy hugged each other again. They were very happy!

Jake declared, "Let's go to see your family and share the good news." Frizzy agreed. Both ran to where her family lived. Jake stopped Frizzy, "Wait! I wanted to tell you about your parents before we go see your family. They were very concerned about you that they asked me why you were feeling sad. I feel responsible for what I did it to you and your family."

"No. It's mine. I didn't confide with them. I should have let them help me." Frizzy felt guilty.

Frizzy saw her bear parents and told them Jake has invited me to visit his homeland in the Bear Mountain Land. Her Mama Bear came to her and held her paws, "Is that what you thought? Jake will leave you behind and you will lose your best friend?" Frizzy nodded.

"Is that reason why you couldn't confide in us? You had us worried about you. You should have confided in us and we could have helped you with your dilemma; no matter how big or how small." King James scolded. Frizzy felt bad for hurting her parents with her lack of confidence in her bear parents. Frizzy felt regrets.

"You're right. I'm sorry for what I have put you through. I should have known that you have always helped and protected me when I needed you."

King James and Mama Bear went to Frizzy and hugged their daughter with their tears, knowing they would miss her very much.

Jake regretted for his actions that caused so many confusion. He went to her bear parents and said, "I wanted you to know it was me that I forget my manners. I went too far. I should have approached Frizzy with confidence rather than feeling sorry for myself."

King James added, "I trust you have learned your lesson?"

Jake admitted, "Yes, I did. Thanks for helping me to see myself better."

"Excellent! Let us spend time together by playing chess." King James laughed, having the last word!

Jake the Bear Meets the Holy Bear Spirit

The morning came. It was emotional time for Frizzy's family and friends in the village. Frizzy's bear family got their gear ready with food and supplies for the journey. They were in tears. Mama Bear told her daughter, "Come back soon." Frizzy replied to her answer, "Yes, I will return." Jake and Frizzy hugged her families and friends to say farewell. King James spoke to Jake, "Take a good care of Frizzy." Jake nodded and said, "Yes, you have my word." It wasn't easy for Frizzy's bear parents to see them to go. Jake was very anxious to leave to start their journey as Frizzy lagged behind waving goodbye to her family and friends and trying to catch up with Jake. Jake was joyful and expressed his thankfulness from his mind for the wisdom from his grandfather from the Bear Heaven. It would be an exciting trip for Jake and Frizzy.

Jake said to Frizzy, "We will return to visit your family soon. Please don't feel bad but it will do you good to get out of the Bear Water Land to experience new things for you."

Frizzy nodded and said, "I know it hit me very hard leaving my bear parents. I love them dearly. I look forward to return and tell new tales of my journey." Frizzy smiled at the thought.

Their journey took several days to reach to the Bear Mountain. They weren't rushing to get back so soon. They wanted to make a couple of stops to find food, rest and go to fishing. Jake decided to take the same route into the mountains the way where he came before but it would be harder with their supplies. They would have to cut down some leaves to have more room for their supplies to pass through. He knew where to find a big cave along the way to the Bear Mountain to take rest there. They continued their journey for many hours until they saw a beautiful spot with a big pond. They found a cave and decided to stop and hunt to eat before dark. Jake and Frizzy found many different fishes and delicious berries. They ate all of it and were full. Both took a rest and shared their stories, but they couldn't keep their eyes open and fell asleep. Their journey were exerted and took a toll on them.

In the early morning, Frizzy woke up and realized she was feeling awful sore in her bear body. She wanted to scream but she had to keep to herself with moaning and groans. She knew it would be difficult to continue but she wanted to be there at the Bear Mountain Land. She saw Jake asleep and she didn't want to wake him. She knew he would need more rest. She knew she needs to start collect fishes and berries to bring and put in their gears for their trip.

Jake woke up and saw Frizzy gone. He knew her customary habits by getting up in the early crack of dawn to start the day. She would probably be gone swimming to collect fishes. Thinking about fishes makes his stomach rumbled. When he was ready to get up, he couldn't. His body took beating by cutting down the big leaves. He moaned and groaned so loud and became stuck on the ground.

Frizzy came back to the cave and saw Jake struggling to get up. She ran and kneeled beside Jake, is concerned by asking him "Are you in pain? Is that why you can't get up?" Jake's face contorted in pain. Frizzy commanded him to lie down and asked him, "Where did you feel pain? Did you hurt yourself while cutting down the leaves?"

Jake mumbled, "I did feel the sting in my back when I accidentally cut the leaves too hard but I didn't stop until we reached the cave. Now I am suffering."

Frizzy gestured Jake to turn his back to check to see if anything was wrong on his back. She found one that is out of the place and commanded him not to move. "I found it was out of alignment in your back. You will have to stay put until I treat you. We must stay here for few days until you get better. I will take care of you and hunt food. I will have to find a flower herb to help heal your back. I do hope it's with the supplies. Let me go in search for one", said Frizzy with concerns. Jake nodded in reply.

Frizzy then went out to find the supplies. She took out everything out to inspect it and found none. She was looking around the surroundings thinking if the flower herb might grew somewhere but it may be impossible to find one here. But she had to try. She left the supplies and go see Jake.

Jake was lying still and sleeping. Frizzy kneeled, calling and shaking him softly by waking up. "Jake, Jake it's me Frizzy." Jake slowly opened his eyes and nodded.

"Jake, I don't have the flower herb with us here so I must go find one out there. Will you be okay to be alone for a little bit?"

Jake mumbled, "Yes, please hurry back quickly" Frizzy nodded. Frizzy was going to run but she had second thought. She went back to pick up the food to bring it to Jake. "Here's the food I got for us. I will leave it near you so you can eat when you get hungry but please stay still. Don't move too much. Alright?"

Jake nodded and mumbled, squeezing her paws, "I will not move too much. Thanks for the food. Go now and hurry back."

Frizzy nodded and got out of the cave to sprint away. While she was running, she pleaded herself "Where can I find this flower? Please help me find one. I am not familiar with this place." She searched hurriedly near the waters, under the rocks or where the flowers would be at. She looked everywhere for hours, not able to find one. She knew it would be nowhere to find in this place. She then sadly decided to head back to the cave until a small voice through her mind saying, "Look up on the mountain." She stood very still and puzzled. "What did you say?" Frizzy's mind asking it. A small voice repeated, "Look up on the mountain." Frizzy heard it again.

So Frizzy looked up and looked for the flower and saw one. She was so ecstatic and halted to ask it the question, "Are you sure about that flower that I seek?" The Holy Bear Spirit whispered, "You shouldn't doubt me, it's me to help bears when they need me." Frizzy knew it spoke the truth and thanked to the voice. Frizzy was busy carefully climbing up to the mountains to where the small voice directed her to locate the flower. She was worried she might fall. She continued climbing up some more until she saw a small plant hanging out of the mountain. She wasn't sure if that's the one but she kept going by climbing on the sideways. She was worried if she stayed away from Jake too long, but she knew she has to re-focus on her climbing on sideways. It was challenge for her until she reached to the location where the flower herb was at. She saw it, knew, and said, "That's the one!" She was ecstatic! She had to figure it out to take this flower out with one paw. Her left paw clasped on the rock while she took it out very carefully removing all the roots and seeds with her right paw. She got it all and packed in her gear. When she climbed down from the mountain and panting harder feeling relieved to be back on the ground. She inspected the flower herb to be sure it's all intact. She ran harder to get back to Jake.

Jake woke up and became alert. He never felt so much pain before. The spasms were much worse and terrible. Jake's ears perked up and heard the sound like of somebody running out there. He hoped it was Frizzy running. Sure enough, it was Frizzy he saw when she got inside the cave and said, "I found it!" Jake felt relieved.

Frizzy then started to get busy by finding the logs to make a little fire and getting the water for boiling. She grinded the flower herbs along with seeds and roots in a bowl and put all in the pot to boil for two hours until it gets cooler. During at that time, she was helping Jake by rubbing in circles to help warming up the alignment on his back. She gave him some herb to drink.

Jake knew this herb drink would taste terrible but he drank it anyway.

Frizzy dip the cloth into the water and put it on his back and keep rubbing in circles over and over again. It took all most of the day until evening. Jake started to feel better as the pain eased down; but still laying down feeling her to continue rubbing in circles. Frizzy felt it's time to stop and wait until the morning to see if the alignment would shift back into the proper configuration. While she was watching Jake, she was extremely exhausted and fell asleep.

Jake woke up by the sunrise. He almost forgot that he had alimnet, but he felt great. He tested his back by turning and found it didn't give him pain at all. He decided to give it go by getting up and he stood feeling amazed. Jake saw Frizzy sleeping so he went to her to shake to wake her and exclaimed, "You did it! You're amazing!" Frizzy woke and smiled. Frizzy commanded Jake to lay down. Jake hesitated and said, "My back is fine now. I'm healed."

Frizzy looked at him and scolded him, "Who tended your back? I'm the doctor. You will do what I tell you."

Jake sighed, "All right. You win." He laid down and let her feeling his back. She found that the one did swift back into the alignment!

She has done it and was feeling proud of herself.

Frizzy declared, "You are cured!"

"Wow! You're the best doctor I ever have. Thank you for taking a good care of me." Jake exclaimed!

Jake ran out of the cave overjoyed. He missed the activity by running, climbing and swimming. Frizzy laughed at his goofiness and looked up in the Bear Heaven with her sincere gratitude in her soul and silently said, "Thanks to a voice for helping me finding the herb flower. I will trust you forever." All of a sudden, she was feeling tingled over her being. She was shocked at the warmth feeling. She knew a voice heard her. She feel overwhelmed and treasured with this wonderful feeling.

She pondered about the incident with a voice and how it impacted her that day. She was dumbfounded when a voice came to her helping her find it. The voice was very soothing with kindness. I would love to hear it again. Loud noises scattered her thoughts back to present.

Frizzy shook out her stillness when Jake came back heavily breathing and said, "It's good to be back in shape. What's the plan now? Do we need to leave now or stay for the day?"

Frizzy said, "We can leave right now as long you are up to it. You must take it easy with cutting leaves. Don't want to see you get hurt again. I think that's the last of herb flower in this land."

Jake declared, "I will take it easy and we don't have to rush getting back to Bear Mountain. Deal?"

Frizzy agreed happily and said, "Deal!"

They decided to leave immediately to the Bear Mountain. As they're about to leave with their gears, both of them had a sudden bad feeling that something's not right out there. They were not sure what it was. Jake told Frizzy to stay put and he then went out to inspect first. He found nothing and he decided they start to depart again. In the meantime, he was puzzled why the bad feeling was getting worse. Jake did not want to make a detour and wasn't sure if they should continue. The Holy Bear Spirit appeared to Jake and whispered in his ear.

The Holy Bear Spirit said "Don't go this way, the danger is out there. You must travel the other way to Wild Bear Rainforest Land.”

Jake was surprised when he heard something very clearly, but he wasn't too sure where it came from. Jake looked around him and wondered why he couldn't see anyone. He wondered why the Holy Bear Spirit whispered in his ear. Frizzy saw Jake looking around and saw nothing. Jake decided to continue.

The Holy Bear Spirit spoke again and said “Don't go this way, the danger is out there. You must travel the other way to Wild Bear Rainforest.”

Jake stopped the journey and looked around again.

Jake spoke in his mind, “We aren't going anywhere except going home to Bear Mountain Land. Why are you following and telling me things?”

Jake wasn't familiar with a voice out of nowhere knowing it's not Frizzy's voice.

Frizzy asked him, “Are you sure you're OK? Why are you stalling? What are you looking for?”

Jake explained to Frizzy that the message he heard twice. Frizzy was surprised and understood what Jake is doing and did share her experience with Jake.

“Jake, I think that's the same it spoke to me yesterday. I think we should heed to what it said to you”, she remarked. But he wasn't paying attention to what Frizzy was telling him. He wasn't sure what the Holy Bear Spirit was so he felt compelled to speak to the spirit.

“Who are you?”

Jake couldn't hear anything but the silence so he asked again.

“Who are you?”

The Bear Spirit spoke “I am the Holy Bear Spirit from the Bear Heaven. I am here to help the bears to warn them of dangers and lead them to safety.”

Jake heard the Bear Spirit speaking and asked, “Why are you warning me? I don't see any danger out there. Why can't we see you? Did my grandfather send you to warn me?”

The Holy Bear Spirit spoke again, “Did you feel the bad feeling inside of you? That shows you are in danger. You will never see me, but I am the Spirit in the bear form. You may hear me. I am sent from the Bear Heaven and, I am here to do goodwill for bears. I have been chosen to be your companion, because your Grandfather sent me. If you need help, I can be with you in Spirit. If you need my wisdom then you must follow my wisdom. It can be given to you when you make good or bad choices. Whether you decide to heed my wisdom or not, it will bring you consequences. You can still go the short way to Bear Mountain or you can take a detour.”

Frizzy watched and awed to see Jake converse back and forth. Jake was not sure what to do. He felt hesitate and awkward with the Spirit Bear.

Jake asked himself, “How do I know you're telling the truth?”

The Holy Bear Spirit whispered to his mind, “It's not our way to lead you astray.”

Jake was surprised to hear the comment and ask the Holy Bear Spirit,

“Can you read my mind?”

“Yes I can read your mind”, the Holy Bear Spirit confirmed with Jake.

Jake wasn't sure if it was a good thing or bad thing. He decided to halt the journey and ask Grandfather's help.

The Holy Bear Spirit informed Jake, “Your Grandfather sent me. It's my job to help bears by guiding them to the right path. I know this is new to you.”

Jake asked. “Oh, Grandfather told me about you. Can I share what I have learned about you with Frizzy?”

The Holy Bear Spirit responded, “Yes you can. She will learn to understand and help you in your journeys. She will have to learn to trust you. Remember you are the Chosen One.”

“Yes I understand.” Jake thanked him for reminding me.

“Frizzy, what I am trying to tell you. I heard a small voice that said, “There is a danger out there where we are supposed to go but we need to take a detour to Wild Bear Rainforest Land. I'm not exactly sure if we should go there. Hope you don't think I'm loony. We may have to stay here for another day. I need do some things first. Would you like to go swimming or fishing?” Frizzy replied, “Yes! I knew it. I tried telling you I heard a voice yesterday too. It really helped me. No you're not loony. Where do you need to do things first?"

"Really? How? You didn't tell me about it. We can talk about this later. I need to go speak to my Grandfather. I need his help by telling me which direction we should go. I am not familiar what I've learned. I know it's a lot for you take in. I am hoping you would trust me." Jake explains.

Frizzy nodded, "I understand I do trust you. Will you share how you conversed with Grandfather even though he's not here?"

Jake said, "I will as soon I get back. So I'll see you later. Don't get concerned if I stay out too long."

Frizzy smiled and said, "I won't get worried. I'll be fine. Go now."

Frizzy saw him parting away. She was awed with a new revelation. How did Jake get to converse with his Grandfather? Was his gift special like me but in different way? I thought it was awesome to be able to see my Grandmother and Grandfather again. Frizzy smiled and realized Jake had a special gift to converse with some important bears. She promised herself she would try to understand his oddity. She knew he was a special and true friend to whoever crosses his path.

She decided to keep herself busy by preparing for their journey. She delighted in going fishing and hunting for more food. She was debating with herself which to do; dive into the pond to catch fishes with her paws or sit to fish. She thought of different kinds of berries and how delicious they would be to eat if they brought them for their journey. She needs to made it her first priority.

She wondered how many days it would take to get to Wild Bear Rainforest Land. It would be exciting to meet new bears in a different land. Maybe she could meet another female hunter, like herself. She stopped thinking about it and started to get herself occupied.

Jake found a secret place to ask for help.

He cried to his Grandfather to help and guide him the wisdom for his dilemma. Jake waited and waited all day long. He did become restless. Jake debated with himself if he should go ahead as the Bear Spirit says. When he fell asleep Jake had a dream that night and found himself standing next to his Grandfather.

Jake asked, "Hi Grandfather." They hugged.

“Who was the Holy Bear Spirit? Why can't I see him? Is he the Holy Bear Spirit you spoke with me about when I saw you for the first time?”

Grandfather spoke, “Yes Jake, that's right. He's the one. You will only hear his whisperings. The Holy Bear Spirit will help you more than I can. That's a part of being the Chosen One; to have this privilege. I will give my message to the Holy Bear Spirit to help and guide you when you need it. It's important for you to heed the instructions that will lead you and your bears safely on your journey. You will be able to make decisions on your own by accepting or rejecting what the Holy Bear Spirit instructs. It's called Free Agency. So I say it's up to you. Choose wisely. You'll know if the feeling is right or wrong. Beware, Jake. There are consequences to any decisions you will make.”

Jake understood what was asked of him. He asked Grandfather, “Should we still go to Wild Bear Rainforest Land?”

Yes, let me tell you about this land. What you need to understand about Wild Bear Rainforest Land.

“There are two parts in the rainforest. One is wet. That is where it always rains. The other is dry and never gets cold or very hot. There are millions of plants everywhere. It has giant trees all over the land. Many bears climb up and swing everywhere. Some sleep in the trees. The bears often eat bananas, greens and many fruits from the trees. The bears hunt their food by knocking fruit down from the trees. It is very beautiful and very green. You must go there.”

Jake the Bear reads Lesson Two from the Golden Book

While Jake was waiting for an answer from his Grandfather, he became bored and restless. He happened to have a thought about the Golden Book to read to help kill time. He got excited to be able to read the next lesson. He took out the Golden Book and opened and saw the engraved words that says "Bear Godhead."

He became very curious to know what it is all about. When he started to read, but he had bothersome feeling that it is not safe to read the Golden Book in the open. So he came up with realization and decided to do something about it. He decided to go deeper in the forest and looked around to find a safe spot and found one in a distance. He started to go there until he saw Balki the Bear standing there and waiting for him to arrive. He was amazed at Balki's uncanny timing when he knew about his plan to read his Golden Book but he was glad to see him to learn some more about our destiny from Bear Heaven and Bear Earth and his plan for us.

Jake spoke and smiled, "I still can't comprehend how you knew I was going to be here to read another lesson of the Golden Book. But I'm glad you're here." Jake handed his paw to Balki to shake paws. Balki returned the favor.

Balki smiled and spoke, "It was Bear Heavenly Father who knows your future when and where you will read again. He sent me to meet you today." So here I am. "How's your reading in the Lesson One? Do you have questions to ask?"

"Yes, a few. When I read the premortal earth, the important question came to my mind is why every bears didn't know about this? That's important thing to know where we came from." Jake implied his question.

"That's an important question you have. I will share this with you. They did have the book called scripture. It was written on it and did teaching for two thousand years when the extinction started to happen when the scripture started to be forgotten and the years passed by. They were losing their values by not teaching their cubs. They have started to forget their ancestors' tradition by thinking it's not important to pass it on. A few of the bears did share with them but too many easily get distorted with the information. So that's why Bear Heavenly Father already has a plan for Chosen Ones from the beginning to teach the Bears. We need to help them to get them back on track to learn again." Balki answered his question. "Any more questions to ask me?"

"Really? That's good. I cannot imagine why the bears don't value these teachings. I find this Golden Book is valuable to know where we came from. It makes sense to me now to know why we are here. It's like a new breath of life when I learn of this." Jake commented. "No more questions for now."

"Yes. I agree. Excellent! Let's get started." Balki said.

As they sat down, Balki began the discussion about the Godhead. It's important to learn to understand how the Bear Godhead works and with The Fall that you will learn in Lesson Three and Plan of Salvation that you will learn in Lesson Four, How Bear Heavenly Father, Jesus Christ the Bear, and Holy Bear Spirit can work together. They are three separate personages that support Plan of Salvation together as a team. It was ordained from the beginning. I will tell you about Bear Heavenly Father, Jesus Christ the Bear, and Holy Bear Ghost's roles from the beginning. I was commanded to teach you and this will help you to be fully understand.

In the Grand Council, many bear spirits were taught by Bear Father in Heaven about the Creation and how Godhead is necessary to help their bear spirit cubs to follow the "map" to receive the eternal life. You will learn about the Godhead. The Bear God, Jesus Christ the Bear, and Holy Bear Ghost. The eternal plan is most important that have worked together to make it to happen. This plan is only way it has to be done. During our the progress of veil, our memories were removed when we were born here on the Bear earth but the map from the scriptures will help guide us to return home. Bear Father in Heaven loves for each of us and he provides the scriptures. This will help to learn by guiding us into the right path by returning home to Bear Heaven. The three personages has made known to us in pre-earth existence. Let me explain each of the individuals and their responsibilities for helping bears back in their presence.

"Our Bear Heavenly Father is a God, Almighty or Eternal. He lives in a place, which is called Heaven, where Bear God also lives in, which is the ultimate home of the faithful. A long, long time ago, He was a mortal bear like you are today. He had lived in the Bear Earth, which is not here but in one of many worlds out in yonder. He did pass his mortal life to become immortality life. He receives his exaltation to become one of the Bear Gods and started his family in Heaven. He is Eternal. His home in Bear Heaven is much similar as here as the Bear Earth but much cleaner, so grand and beautiful. There are so many Mansions everywhere up there. He rules both the heavens and the earth, and all things that are upon the face of it, and also all the planets which move in their regular form do witness that there is a Supreme Creator and Designer. We can look up at the sky at night and have an idea of what it meant. There are millions of stars and planets, all in perfect order as you can't count them. They did not get there by chance. We can see the work of Bear God in the heavens and on the earth. The many beautiful plants, the many kinds of animals, the mountains, the rivers, the clouds that bring us rain and snow - all these testify to us that there is a Bear God. You can see the beauty of the creation among you right here.

The Chosen One taught us that Bear God is the Bear Almighty Ruler of the universe. Bear God dwells in heaven. Through His Bear Son, He created the heavens and the earth and all things that are in them. He made the moon, the stars, and the sun. He organized this world and gave it form, motion, and life. He filled the air and the water with living things. He covered the hills and plains with all kinds of animal life. He gave us day and night, summer and winter, seedtime and harvest. He made bears in His own image to be a ruler over His other creations.

Bear God is the Supreme and Absolute Being in whom we believe and whom we worship. He is "the Great Bear Parent of the universe," and He "looks upon the whole of the bear family with a fatherly care and paternal regard. He is the same yesterday, today and forever.

I wanted to explain The Nature of Bear God. What are some of Bear God's attributes? Because we are made in His image we know that our bodies are like His bear body. His eternal spirit is housed in a tangible body of flesh and bones. Bear God's body, however, is perfected and glorified, with a glory beyond all description.

Bear God is perfect. He is a Bear God of righteousness, with attributes such as love, mercy, charity, truth, power, faith, knowledge, and judgment. He has all power. He knows all things. He is full of goodness.

All good things come from Bear God. Everything that He does is to help His bears become like Him. He has said, "Behold, this is my work and my glory—to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of bears".

Why is it important for us to understand the nature of Bear God? It is to get to know Bear God. How can we come to know Bear God? Knowing Bear God is so important that the Savior said, "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true Bear God, and Jesus Christ the Bear, whom thou hast sent".

The first and greatest commandment is "Thou shalt love the Bear Lord thy God with all thy heart".

The more we know Bear God, the more we love Him and keep His commandments. By keeping His commandments we can become like Him. We can know Bear God if we will: 1. Believe that He exists and that He loves us. 2. Study the scriptures. 3. Pray to Him. 4. Obey all His commandments as best we can.

As we do these things, we will come to know Bear God and eventually have eternal life. Ponder what you can do to draw nearer to Bear God.

He was showing us who and what Bear God our Eternal Father is like, how completely devoted He is to His cubs in every age and nation. In word and in deed Jesus the bear was trying to reveal and make personal to us the true nature of His Father, our Bear Father in Heaven. I bear personal witness this day of a personal, living Bear God, who knows our names, hears and answers prayers, and cherishes us eternally as cubs of His spirit. I testify that amidst the wondrous complex tasks inherent in the universe, He seeks our individual happiness and safety above all other godly concerns. We are created in His very image and likeness.

He did this at least in part because then and now all of us need to know Bear God more fully in order to love Him more deeply and obey Him more completely. As both Old and New Testaments declare, "The first of all the commandments is ... thou shalt love the Bear Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first [and great] commandment."

Jake was listening very intently and asked Balki the important question, "How did Bear Father in Heaven know us and our true Heart? If we show our true Heart, will Bear Heavenly Father recognize us? There are so many of bears here."

Balki explains to Jake, "Bear Heavenly Father has the priesthood power to connect one of us and will know who has the true heart. He knows us personally as we have lived with him before. He does hear us when we reach out to Him and He will reach out to you in a special way. Is there more questions you wanted to ask me?" Jake nodded and understood everything and said, "Proceed."

"Good! Let's discuss about the second personage who is Jesus Christ the Bear, the Son of Bear Heavenly Father the second member of the Godhead. When we lived in pre-earth existence we were in Spirit form. His name was Jehovah the Bear who was in Spirit. He is our eldest brother bear. He was chosen to be Savior for bear-kind. When he was born on Earth, His name is Jesus Christ the Bear. Jesus is Heavenly Father's firstborn Bear Son, the Only Begotten of the Father in the flesh and bones. He is our Savior, Redeemer and a Mediator with the Bear Father. It was He who died on the cross to atone for our sins. He became the firstfruit of the Resurrection. Because He died, all shall live again. We must accept Him in our true Heart. May the whole world know it and live by the knowledge. He is the second of the Godhead who works with Our Bear Father.

Jesus Christ is the Savior of the world and the Son of God. He is our Redeemer. Each of these titles points to the truth that Jesus Christ is the only way by which we can return to live with our Bear Heavenly Father.

Jesus the Bear suffered and was crucified for the sins of the world, giving each of Bear God's cubs the gift of repentance and forgiveness. Only by His mercy and grace can anyone be saved. His subsequent resurrection prepared the way for every bear to overcome physical death as well. These events are called the Atonement. In short, Jesus Christ the bear saves us from sin and death. For that, He is very literally our Savior and Redeemer.

In the future, Jesus Christ the bear will return to reign on earth in peace for a thousand years. Jesus Christ is the Bear Son of God, and He will be our Bear Lord forever". When Balki was done his lesson, he asked Jake to see if he has questions to ask him.

Jake spoke, "I think I understood his role for bearkind. Why did Jesus Christ the Bear had to die on the cross to save us?"

Balki explained to Jake, "We are subject by The Fall of Adam and Eve the Bear in Garden of Eden. It will explain more in the next chapter to help you understand more clearly". Jake agreed.

Good! Let's proceed to learn about Holy Bear Ghost. "The Holy Bear Ghost is the third member of the Godhead. He is a personage of spirit, without a body of flesh and bones. He is often referred to as the Spirit, the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of God, the Spirit of the Lord, or the Comforter. His roles of the Holy Bear Ghost.

"The Holy Bear Ghost works in perfect unity with Bear Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ the bear, fulfilling several roles to help us live righteously and receive the blessings of the gospel.

"He 'witnesses of the Bear Father and the Bear Son' and reveals and teaches 'the truth of all things'. We can receive a sure testimony of Bear Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ only by the power of the Holy Ghost. His communication to our spirit carries far more certainty than any communication we can receive through our natural senses."

As we strive to stay on the path that leads to eternal life, the Holy Bear Ghost can guide us in our decisions and protect us from physical and spiritual danger.

Through Him, we can receive gifts of the Bear Spirit for our benefit and for the benefit of those we love and serve.

He is the Comforter. As the soothing voice of a loving parent can quiet a crying child, the whisperings of the Bear Spirit can calm our fears, hush the nagging worries of our life, and comfort us when we grieve. The Holy Bear Ghost can fill us "with hope and perfect love" and "teach [us] the peaceable things of the kingdom."

Through His power, we are sanctified as we repent, receive the ordinances of baptism and confirmation, and remain true to our covenants.

He is the Holy Bear Spirit of Promise. In this capacity, He confirms that the priesthood ordinances we have received and the covenants we have made are acceptable to Bear God. This approval depends on our continued faithfulness.

All honest seekers of the truth can feel the influence of the Holy Bear Ghost, leading them to Jesus Christ the bear and His gospel. However, the fulness of the blessings given through the Holy Bear Ghost are available only to those who receive the gift of the Holy Bear Ghost and remain worthy.

After a person is baptized by the immersion, one or more Melchizedek Priesthood holders lay their hands on the person's head and, in a sacred priesthood ordinance, confirm him or her a member of the Faith. As part of this ordinance, called confirmation, the person is given the gift of the Holy Bear Ghost.

When a male bear receive the Melchizedek Priesthood, he enters into the oath and covenant of the priesthood. He covenants to be faithful, magnify his calling, "give diligent heed to the words of eternal life," and "life by every word that proceedeth forth from the mouth of Bear God." Those who keep this covenant will be sanctified by the Spirit and receive, "all that [the] Father hath."

The gift of the Holy Ghost is different from the influence of the Holy Bear Ghost. Before baptism, a person can feel the influence of the Holy Bear Ghost from time to time and through that influence can receive a testimony of the truth. After receiving the gift of the Holy Bear Ghost, a person has the right to the constant companionship of that member of the Godhead if he or she keeps the commandments.

Balki was paused talking about the description of the Holy Bear Ghost and asked Jake, "Do you have questions regarding the Holy Bear Ghost?"

Jake spoke, "When I receive the Bear Holy Ghost, will I get promoted frequently or periodically for further guidance or warning?"

Balki replied, "Yes, the Bear Holy Ghost will always continue to help or guide you as long as you keep your heart true and obey the commandments as long as you live."

Jake was feeling happier to hear this and thanked him to answer his question.

"Wonderful! Keep pondering the words in your Heart you have learned today. We will meet again to learn more in the next chapter soon. The next lesson you will learn will be about The Fall.

Keep ponder in your heart and it will come to you with a full of understanding in time. Everything we plan are in perfect order without stumbling blocks. Bear God's greater love for you and bearkind is so much more than you would comprehend. You will learn the Bear God's mysteries. I will be here to visit with you when you are ready to learn The Fall together."

"I will keep ponder. Thank you for teaching me. I look forward to our next visit." Jake confirmed.

"Wonderful! See you soon." Balki declared.

Balki then disappeared in front of Jake. Jake was used to it with his disappearance. He was holding the Golden Book in his arms and pondered on what he has learned today. He saw the sun that tells him the time and it was evening time he still waited for his answer from Grandfather. But he realized he has learned about Holy Bear Spirit. It's comforting to know that he was able to converse with when he needed. He knew he should trust it with his whole heart and he feels he need to understand why he needs to take the detour in the first place. He was contemplating for the rest of the evening and he fell asleep and then he had a dream conversing with his Grandfather...